FIDELITY SAVINGS BANK

DEPOSITORY

THE VAULTS of this institution are the eccepted models of Safe Depositories throughout the United States. They are built of solid masonry, and are lined with steel plates several inches thick. They constitute an absolutely TMPREGNABLE FORTRESS against the assaults of any and all Burglars living. Their utter defiance of fire is proved by the fact that they withstood the GREAT CONFLAGRATION OF 1871. They afford a place of supreme security for the storage of Money, Ooin, Jewelry, Silverplate, Deeds, Bonds, Wills, and Valuables of all kinds.

Hecent additions and improvements have made the FIDELITY the most complete and extensive, as it has always been the most secure, Safe Depository in the world. Single Boxes and Drawers for Rent from $5 to $75 a year.

BRISTOW-THE LATEST DEMOCRATIC ATTACK.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—An attack upon eretary Bristow in connection with the Texas Pacific Railroad was made last night, and ore widely circulated to-day, to the effect that when he was solicitor of the Company, after his resignation as Solicitor-General, he succeeded in resignation as Solicitor-General, he succeeded in inducing Secretary Delano to appoint Mr. R. C. Hopkins, of San Francisco, as a special agent of the Government to proceed to Mexico to obtain transcripts of land-grants which the Company could not obtain without the authority of the Government, and that this appointment and the service performed under it were solely in the interest of the Toxas Pacific Company, and at the expense of the

that this appointment and the service performed under it were solely in the interest of the Texas Pacific Company, and at the expense of the Government. This is the revival of a story which was printed at great length in a newspaper of California and various journals at the East in March and April, 1873. The story has just this foundation namely: That the officers of the Texas Pacific finding that were being extensively located upon the lands along the line of their road, which had formerly been ceded to the United States by Mexico, it was determined to send an agent into Mexico for the purpose of obtaining transcripts of all valid land titles in the Northern States of Mexico, in order to preclude the possibility of fraudulent grants being brought forward to cover lands of the road. As the Government was equally interested with the road in this matter, since it owned half of the land in question, the other half being granted to the road, the Department of the Interior was requested to give the agent selected by the Company a letter of credit which was thought might facilitate him in his work. This was done, it being expressly stated in the letter of appointment transmitting this letter of credit, as no appropriation for such purpose was at the command of the Department, his services must be rendered

FRAUDULENT SPANISH LAND-GRANTS

WITHOUT COMPENSATION.

The agent selected for this work was Mr. R. C. Hopkins, of San Francisco, a geutleman well known throughout that section, and to the Supreme Court here, as an expert in all matters of Mexican titles. He performed the work intrusted to him, and the Railroad Company transmitted copies of his report to the Government for its use and information, and the Railroad Company paid all the expenses of the agent. As to OCH. ERISTOW'S CONNECTION pany paid all the expenses of the sgent. As to GEN. RRISTOW'S CONNECTION with the securities of the road, at the time be became officially connected with it he purchased about $12,000 of its securities, and had them up to the time that he was nominated for Attorney-General, and then, without even waiting for confirmation, he at once disposed of them at a very great sacrifice solely because he was unwilling to enter upon public office in a position where he might be called upon to pass upon the interest of this Company with any of its securities in his possession.

Chairman of the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice, to whom Secretary Bristow's indignant and manly letter was addressed, called upon Bristow this evening to endeavor to explain the method of his Committee. The curious feature about the publication is that it seems to have been given out simultaneously from a professedly secret committee to the Democratic press, and to such papers as are especially hostile to Bristow on account of whicky ring affiliations. The letter of Bristow's is likely to call the attention of House Republicans to the fact that they have allowed the Committees to slander public officials without notice and without opportunity for defense, by detectives and all sorts of people of unsavory reputation. Very recently a conceded lunatic was permitted to defame one of the purest men in the army.

BARTLEY, THE LAWYER,
is also busy about the streats to-night endeavoring to explain why he appeared to disclose alleged secrets confided to him by his client, Suit, who says that he never made such statements. The whole story seems to be a pitiable invention. It is confidently asserted that there were never any such suits as those which Bartley testifies to, and that his client, Suit, never had any distilleries seized under the circumstances mentioned

SHOW YOUR HAND, BARNEY.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—Secretary Bristow has addressed the following letter to the Hon. B. G. Caulfield, Chairman of the Commitsee on Expenditures in the Department of Jus-

Hon. B. G. Caulfield, Chairman of the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice:

Size: Mo attention has been called to Washington dispatches to the Baltimore Gazette of this date (copy enclosed), from which it appears that some time last week Mr. T. W. Bartley, of this city, appeared before your Committee and detailed rumors under costs affecting my official integrity. This witness is represented as having sworn, upon information and belief, in substance that while I was United States Attorney for the District of Kentucky a number of distilleries were seized at my instance, and that soon after, upon an offer of a large sum of money, I resigned, and procured the appointment of my assistant (Col. Whatton) as my successor, became counsel for these distillers, and, in accordance with the terms of the alleged agreement, procured the release of their property. It is difficult to credit the statement that an officer of the Government who could be reached by your Committee in a few minutes abould be allowed to remain in ignorance of the exact character of such testimony for nearity a week, and that no opportunity to meet charges of so serious a nature abould be afforded him. In the absence of any definite information from your Committee in regard to what the witness really stated under oath, and without reference to the alleged denial of these statements by another witness, I must promptly meet the siander as I find it in the public prints, even at the risk of appearing to reflect upon the methods of your Committee. The story, whether testified to by Mr. Bartley, or any one size before your Committee, is absolutely and unqualifiedly false. I trust your Committee will recognize the properity of giving me an opportunity to meet this baseless slander promptly, and for this purpose I request that the officers of the Court including the Judge thereof, be brought before your Committee, and subjected to a public examination touching all matters alleged by the witness in question, either by direct statement or in

IMPEACHMENT. AROTHES BRIEF SESSION.

Special Depath to The Chicago Pribusa.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—The Belknap impeachment farce took up the time of the Senate to-day, and only wanted some small boys peddling the photographs of the accused among the crowded audience to make it very like a show. After the performance Gen. Belkeap chatted with several friends, and appeared altogether unconcerned as he passed out through the inquisitive crowd. The Senators discreetly the inquisitive crown. The Senators ingerestly refrain from expressing any opinion as to whether they have jurisdiction over Gen. Belknap, and it is evident that some time will be consumed in settling this question.

It is generally conceded that the Senate will deside the on the ground stated by the managers. It is said that Belknap's presence in court is for the purpose of carrying out the idea that he appears as a private citizens and not in the capacity for the purpose of trial of the Secretary of War. If he was still in office he would not appear, but his counsel hold that private citizens must appear in person to answer charges before a court. This, however, is rather trivial in its character. There is no precedent for the ex-Secretary to appear in person, and his doing so is generally regarded as indelicate, if not downright effrontery. His bearing in the Senate or in the Court, whichever it may be called, is pompous, as it formerly was as Secretary of War, and modesty is a quality which he does not appear to understand. As soon as the court adjourned he walked to the rear of the Senators' seats, and beckoned to Senator Allison to come to him. He was also joined by two members of the House delegation from Iows, and taking a seat on a sofa in joined by two members of the House delegation from Iows, and taking a seat on a sofs in the chamber, he seemed to be highly entertaining. There does not appear to be any calculation as to the length of the trial, but it is evident that it will be prolonged far into the summer.

THE COURT PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—The galleries were again densely crowded this morning, the ladies predominating. So great, indeed, was the rush, that it became necessary to close some of the doors soon after the Senate was called to order.

of the doors soon after the Senate was called to order.

The tables and seats for the managers of the impeachment, the accused and his counsel, were arranged as on Monday.

Ex-Secretary Belknap and his counsel entered at 12:25, and at 12:30 the legislative business was suspended to resume the impeachment trial.

The managers having taken their places, Mr. Lord sent to the Secretary's desk and had read the answer adopted by the House of Representatives to the plea of Belknap, to the effect that at the time of the commission of the acts charged Belknap was an officer of the United States, and was such an officer until after the House, by its proper committee, had completed an investigation into the charges against him, and were preparing for his impeachment, a fact known to him when he resigned.

Mr. Carpenter, for the accused, asked for a copy of the replication of the House, and until Monday next to answer.

Mr. Edmunds submitted an order that the respondent file his answer to the replication of the House by the 25th, and that the trial proceed on the 27th inst. Agreed to.

After some discussion on the motion of Mr. Edmunds, it was ordered that the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, adjourn until the 27th inst. at 12:30 p. m.

TOOK THE RESPONSIBILITY. PRESIDENT JACKSON TO THE INVESTIGATORS.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—The letter of President Jackson to Henry S. Foote, formerly Chairman of the Committee to investigate general charges of abuse against the Executive De partment, has just been revived here as applicable to the present methods of Democratic in-quiries. The following sentences will indicate ble to the present methods of Democratic inquiries. The following sentences will indicate its character:

The heads of Departments may answer such requests as they please, provided they do not withhold their own time and that of the officers under their direction from public business to the injury thereof to that business. I shall direct them to devote themselves to their daties in preference to any illegal and unconstitutional call for information, no matter from what source it may come, and however anxious they may be to meet; For myself I shall repel all such attempts as an invasion of the principles of justice as well of the Constitution, and I shall esteem it my ascred duty to the people of the United States to resist them as I would the establishment of a Spanish inquisition. If, after all the severe accusations contained in various speeches of your own ascord to bring specific charges, then I request your Committee to call yourself and your associates, you are unwilling of your own ascord to bring specific charges, then I request your Committee to call yourself and your associates, you are unwilling of your own ascord to bring specific charges, then I request your Committee to call yourself and your associates and every other member of Congress who made general charge of corruption, to testify before God and the country whether you or they knew of any specific corruption or abuse of trust in the executive departments, and if so, what it was. If you are able to point to any case where there is the slightest reason to suspect corruption or abuse of trust, no obstacle which I can remove shall be interposed to prevent the fullest scrutiny by all legal means. The offices of all the departments will be opened to you and every facility furnished for this purpose. I shall on the one hand cause every possible facility consistent with law and justice to be given to the investigation of specific tangible charges and on the other shall repudiate all attempts to to yet give to the investigation of specific angible ch

MOTHS. A REMEDY WORSE THAN THE DISEASE.
Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—The investiga tion of the means used to introduce the famou Cowles' Moth Exterminator, which has been her According to the stories, this investigation wa to disclose the names of Donn Piatt, Rufus Ingalls, and Gen. Garfield. These names were mentioned in the manner below detailed : Brega. a very unctuous man of the world, who was yes erday hauled from his hiding-place in the uppe story of Welcker's by a subpoena, was exam story of Welcker's by a subpone, was exam-ined. He testified with the air of a man who had wares to sell, and talked as he pleased, in spite of the protest of the Chairman. It will be remembered that Gen. Meigs stated that the Government had lost a large amount of money by the use of his patent, which did not accomplish what was claimed for it. Clymer stated that $400,000 had this: "He could not state what share of the THERE WERE NO PROFITS, be able to say until he had settlement with his partner. Had he be able to say until he had a settlement with his partner. Had not paid any money for the passage of the act, directly or indirectly, nor had any member of his firm; nor had he seen any charges on the books indicating such a thing.

Witness said that the firm employed Donn Piatt to lay the merits of the case before the Secretary of War, and when the Appropriation bills were before Congress to call members' attention to the reports of the officers. The arrangements with Donn Piatt was that he was to receive 5 per cent of the amount paid by the Government. Had never paid any officer of the Government any money. Had never spoken with Gen. Ingalls on this subject, except publicly before the Board appointed to examine the pascess. Did not suggest Gen. Ingalls as a member of the Board. Never made a special request to have Gen. Ingalls appointed as a member of the Board. At that time Donn Piatt was still the agent of the firm. Gen. Ingalls was also a member of the second Commission, which was appointed in 1872. When witness returned from Europe he went down to Long Branch to see Gen. Babcock. Witness found that

DONN FIATT HAD MADE A DEMAND non the firm for $12,000 or $13,000, which Mr. Cowles decided being due, and Mr. Piatt had threatened if it were not paid that he would have the work stopped. The work was stopped, and witness called first upon Gen. Meigs and then upon the Secretary of War. The latter received him very curtly, and told him he would be d—d if he would let him know anything about it. Witness then had a consultation with his partner, and they thought they would lay the matter before the President, and witness went to Long Branch, where he saw Gen. Babcock and told him of the state of the case. Gen. Babcock and their must be a mistake about the Secretary of War acting in that way; that Gen. Beltmap was coming to Long Branch in a few days, and that, if the witness would not see the President in the meantime, he (Babcock) would talk with the Secretary. Babcock did so, and informed Bregs of the nature of the charges. Bregs intimated that Piatt had the work stopped through his influence with the Secretary of War becames the firm would not pay Piatt the additional $11,000.

In this connection Garfield's name was mentioned. It was stated that be telegraphed the Secretary of War after the suspension was ordered to stand firm in his order.

OEN. GARFIELD'S ENPLANATION of his connection with the matter is this: After the first appropriation was bumbug. Quarter the first appropriations received a letter stating that the preparation was a humbug. Quartermaster-General Meigs was summoned before the Committee, and he stated that the Board that had been appointed to examine the preparation was composed of officers hostile to it. Another Board was then ordered, and the result of its report was that another appropriation was made. Before the next Congress met, the story had been noised about that Cowles & Bregs had said that they had paid $10,000 for securing the introduction of their preparation into the army. When, therefore, Garfield, who was then in the West, read that the Secretary of War had suspended the Cowles & Bregs contract, he (Garfield telegraphed to the Secretary of War to stand firm in his suspension. Gen. Garfield maintains that that telegram, and the letter to the Secretary of War which followed, will show that Garfield wished to have the contract suspended until an investigation of the alleged wrongful use of money could be had. This, Garfield says, is the meaning of his telegram, and he declares that he never heard until this day that Donn Piatt had been the cause of the order of suspension.

Claims:

WHEREAS, The Secretary of the Treasury, en the 17th day of April, 1876, issued a circular containing the following notice (the notice is hereby given), that sealed proposals will be received at the Treasury Department until 12 o'clock, noon, on the 28th inst., and opened immediately thereafter, for the sale of 5 per cent coupons or registered bounds of the funded loan of 1831, authorized by the acts of July 14, 1870, and Jan. 20, 1871, drawing interest, payable quarterly, from May 1, 1876, in lots of not lass than $500,000 to the total amount of $5,883,000; these bonds to be sold for gold, and the payment therefore to be made within three days after acceptance by the Dopartment of the bid; and WEREAS, By the terms of this notice parties who desire to purchase a less amount of said bonds than, $500,000 are preclued from making bids, and are required to pay gold therefor instead of legal-tender notes, in which the judgments are payable; therefore, Resored, That in the opinion of this flows the Secretary of the Treasury should withdraw his said circular, and offer said bonds for sale in sums of $3,000 or multiples thereof, and in legal-tender notes, unless there is some provision of law forbidding such payments.

there is some provision of law forbidding such payments.

The House occupied most of the day session in disposing of the contested election case of Finley White. Democrat, versus Walls, colored Republican. The result was the ousting of the colored man and the seating of the Democrat by a strict party vote. Several of the ablest lawyers and fairest-minded men in the House insisted that there could be no doubt that Walls was is wfully elected. The Speaker, in subsequently administering the cath to Finley, made his first bunder of that sort of the session. He had proceeded with the iron-clad oath to the words, "Never voluntarily borne arms against," when Mr. Ficley's arms fell. He could succeed the negro Republican, but he could not take his oath. A member rushed to he front, stopped the Speaker, and the House and galleries, taking in the situation at a giance, broke out into a general laughing, which coctinued some moments. Finally the Speaker regained his composure sufficiently to read the tright oath.

INQUISITORIAL ODDS AND ENDS-NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE MATTERS.

Special Disputch to The Chicago Tricane.

Washinoros, D. C., April 19.—The House Committee on Civil Service has been engaged for several days in an inquiry into the employment of agents of the Secret Service Bureau under Chief Whitely in the New York Custom House. It appears from the testimony of A. D. Newcomb and J. C. Nettleship, the latter of whom was examined to-day, that each of them, while receiving regular pay as Secret Service Agents, also received a salary of $4 a day as Inspectors in the New York Custom-House. The second salary. New York Custom-House. The second salary, ted that he had paid large sums to Gen. Hedrick for that purpose, he paid Baboock nothing whatever.

INACCOUNTED FOR.

The Committee on Expenditures in the Treasury Department, in examining the accounts of the Burean of Captured and Abandoned Property, has discovered that property of immense value is unaccounted for. The responsibility for much of this is directly traceable to Simon Draper, et New York, former Government Agent, now dead.

(Te the Associated Press.)

THE EMMA MINE.—In the Emma Mine investigation to day, et. Senator Stewart testified that he advised Lyon to send Sanator Morton a retaining fee of $1,000, having previously informed the Senator that if the suit turned out well he should have a large compensation. After seeing Senator Morton's testimony, and not knowing whether Lyon had complied with his suggestion, he wrote to a Denver bank for information whether a draft had been drawn by Lyon in favor of Senator Morton, and the reply was that there was no evidence that such a check had been drawn.

Genies the truth of the regently-published statement that he received $5,000 and stock for his services in procuring the passage of the bill passed by the House for the benefit of a Colorado immigration land scheme. He says he received no money whatever for his services in his capacity of member of Congress, but whatever he received was in pursuance of a contract made with parties in *England in 1889 for legal advice and information in relation to American law.

A RANK OFFENSE

THE DISTRICT COMMITTEE HOLD THEIR NOSES.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—The House
Committee on the District of Columbia examined other witnesses to-day in regard to the interest of Drs. Cox and Bliss, of the Board of Health, in the Odorless Excavating Company, of Baltimore, which has a contract with the ard. J. C. Bradley, who was one of the bid-Board. J. C. Bradley, who was one of the bid-ders for removing night soil, and whose offer was more than that of any one else, testifies that he was paid $2,000 by the Odorless Com-pany to withdraw his bid, and that he afterwards sold his patent—known as the Strauss patent— to the Odorless Company, and becoming him-self interested in it. Shortly before the contract was obtained from the District Board of Health, the capital of the Company, which was $1,000, was increased by issuing

Board of Health, the capital of the Company, which was $1,000, was increased by issuing $100,000 more of preferred stock, on which an annual dividend of 7 per cent was guaranteed. Sixty thousand dollars of this stock was pryper and the books of the Company, which were exhibited to the Committee to-day, show that a vote was passed to set aside $40,000 of it to promote the interests of the Company. Of this amount $10,000 was assigned to Dr. C. C. Cox. President of the Board of Health, and $10,000 to Dr. Bliss and his associates in the Board. Dr. Cox's stock was transferred to his wife, and, after several semi-annual dividends had been paid, was, some time last fall, assigned by her to the President of the Company, Reyear. Dr. Bliss never received his certificates of stock.

Keyser, the President of the Company, having advances him money, held the stock as collateral security. The explanation given by members of the Board of Health of this transaction is that Drs. Cox and Biss owned an interest in the Strauss patent, and that when Bradley sold this out to the Odorless Excavating Company they were paid in stock of the new concern to cover it.

NOTES AND NEWS.

THE SALABI VETO.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribuna WARHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—Gen. Grant's reto message, as sent by him to the Senate yesterday, and read by Secretary Gorham to-day, contains a double blunder. He says in one place, "When the salary of the President of the United States was fixed by the Consticontains a double blunder. He says in one place, "When the salary of the President of the United States was fixed by the Constitution at $25,000"; and, in another place, speaking of the salary, "It is not now one-fifth in' value what it was when fixed by the Constitution." As the salary of the President is fixed by law and not by the Constitution, this double blunder will have to be corrected. It is hardly possible that Congress will pass this bill over the President's veto, as it was only passed for the purpose of making political capital, leading men of both parties agreeing that $50,000 per annum is not too large a salary for the incumbent of the White House.

Tom Scott has encountered some formidable rivals before the Congressional Committees. To-day he proposed to the House Committee on Pacific Railroads an amendment to the pending bill, which should grant the Company eight additional years within which to construct the Texas Pacific. Per contra, responsible parties have made a proposition to the Committee to complete the road for the amount of the landgrant, to commence without delay, and continue operations until it is finished, and to make a deposit of $3,000,000 as a pledge to the Government of the good faith of the proposition.

SPENCEN'S CASE.

On Fridsy next the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the Senate will resume the hearing of the case of Senator Spencer. The time of the meeting will evidently be taken up in the reading of the closing argument of the counsel pro and con, so that a report in the matter will not be made to the Senate before the latter part of next week. Spencer's friends claim that the Committee will be unanimous / making a favorable report for him, but it is hardly probable, although under the rulings of the Committee will be unanimous / making a favorable report for him, but it is hardly probable, although under the rulings of the Committee the evidence admitted against Spencer was not of so positive or definite in character as much that was excluded. So it looks as if

PATING OUT SILVER COIN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—The Treasury began paying out silver coin to-day, and the first to avail themselves of the order were the Treasury employes, who formed in line at the cash-room and produced silver in exchange for fractional carrency. There is about $1,000,000 in the Sub-Treasury here, which is believed to be more than sufficient to meet the run upon is. The Treasury to-day disbursed in exchange for more than sufficient to meet the run upon is. The Treasury to-day disbursed in exchange for ractional currency about $35,000 in silver. In the Kilbourn case to-day, Judge Cartter stated that he wished to hear the question of jurisdiction of the House of Representatives fully argued, and refused to entertain the motion to admit Kilbourn to ball at this time. The arguments will probably last several days.

HOUSE.

The Sergeant-at-Arms reported that he had obeyed the writ of habeas corpus in the Hallett-Kilbourn case, and that Kilbourn was ordered by the Judge into the onstody of the Marshal.

Mr. Baker, of Indiana, offered a resolution instructing the Select Committee on the Real Estate Pool to investigate whether any members of the former Congress were connected with that pool while such members. Adopted.

Mr. Whitthorne introduced a bill for refunding the interest-bearing debt of the United States in United States consols bearing 4 per cent gold interest, and having forty-years to run.

On motion of Mr. Banning, the bill for the reduction of the army, which was the special order for to-day, was made the special order next Wednesday.

Mr. O'Brien introduced a bill to provide for the coinage of centennial coins. Referred. The bill provides for silver dollars and half-dollars, one side of the coins to give a corresponding value in coins of other principal commercial nations.

The House then resumed its consideration of the Florids contested election case.

NUMBER 238.

After several speeches, the report was adopted—yeas, 113; nays, 83.

J. Q. Finley was declared entitled to the seal, and was sworn in, taking the modified ceath.

The House them took up the Senate bill to repeal the act making restrictions in the disposition of public lands in Alabama, Mississippi, Arkanass, and Florida, contining them to the provisions of homestead rule. No action was taken on the bill.

The Speaker laid before the Home various Excoutive documents, including an immense mass of paper done up in half a dozen nuce packagas, containing responses to calls for information as to shareholder in National Banks.

The House then took a recess, the evening session to be for general debate on the bill to transfer the Indian Bureau to the War Department.

MR. MOODY.

The Way He Gots His Living, and How Much It Amounts To-He Thinks He Is Worth $7,000.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Some days ago a TRID UNK reporter visited Mesers. Moody and Sankey, and called their attention to the published statement that they were constantly receiving from enthusiastic converts and admirers sums of money, which in the aggregate were sufficient to make them both wealthy. The article implied that they were making use of the revivals as a means to accumulate riches. Mr. Moody's earnest face betrayed no feeling other than a slight shade of contempt as he read the article for the first time, and Mr. he read the article for the first time, and Mr and asked: "When am I to get my share of the spoil?" To which Mr. Moody instantly re-plied. "Not in this world." At that time Mr. public as soon as he had leisure, explaining the manner in which he lived and the way in which support had been tendered to him, but a public statement. Mr. Moody has never placed himself under obligations by receiving money from any denominational society, and does not receive any salary or direct payment for his preaching, thus holding himself free from all denominational restraints, and at liberty to attack any wrong wherever he may encounter it. His desire, as expressed by himself, is to preach only the salvation of men through Christ, and to preach the Gospel of Christ to all whom he can read, as freely as the waters of life are given—without money and without price—but he has not sufficient means to bear the expense of travel, or to support his family and himself while giving his whole time to preaching. For this reason he has been compelled to accept the free offerings of such friends as chose to give him pecuniary assistance, and desire and expect nothing in return but that he should continue in his work. Many of Moody's converts have thus sent him small sums of money as friendly gifts, desiring him to use them to obtain the comforts of life while going forward in the ministry. A great part of these gifts come to him inclosed in anonymous letters, thus compelling acceptance. During his stay in this city all his lesters, except those from his own family, have been opened by the persons who entertain him as their guest. Mr. Moody states that during his stay in the city he has received about $300 in this way, and that all he has ever received from, his friends has only placed him in barely comfortable circumstances. Said he to the reporter: "I have all the money I want if it isn't very much. I have just bought a little place to make a home for my wife and children. It cost $3,500, and I have been putting in some repairs which will cost about as much more, and I don't think I am ashamed to look any man in the face and tell him about it." When it was suggested that a statement of such facts would demuch to stop all adverse criticisms on his mode of working, he replied that it might have the effect also to make the people send him more mon

A TRIBUNE reporter found the Hon. Thomas Hoyne in his office yesterday afternoon with copy of the statutes before him, and looking ticipated. The result is very flattering, indeed."

"The public have considerable interest in knewing; what your future plans will be," said the reporter. "Will you give me some idea as to how you propose to go to work?" "The public have considerable interest in knowing, what your future plans will be," said the reporter. "Will you give me some idea as to how you propose to go to work?"

"Well," said Mr. Hoyne, "I have just been looking at the statute, and in Chap. 24, Art. II., § 2, I find the law laid down about in this way: When a vacancy shall happen in the office of the Mayor, when the unexpired term shall be one year or over from the date when the vacancy occurs, it shall be filled by an election. Now, if that be so, the electors had the right by the third Tuesday in April, which was yesterday, to fill that vacancy by an election. They have done so. But it is objected that the Common Council, in their notice of the municipal officers to be elected, did not include the Mayor. It has been repeatedly decided by the Courts-that, where an office is to be filled, whether in case of a vacancy or in the regelar course of election, and the authority, whether it be a Beuretary of state, clerk, or Common Council, is to give notice of the day upon which the election occurs, if such notice is not given, or if it be defective in form, yet, notwithstanding that, if the electors in fact elect to the office a candidate, that election is held to be valid, notwithstanding the want of notice. In other words, you see, the electors themselves cannot be deprived of their electoral right to fill offices, the choice of which is placed in them by law, but who have no ministerial office to give a formal notice. That is all there is of the case.

At this junction Dan O'Hara and another of the faithful entered the office, and offered their congratulations to the successful candidate for Mayor, who excused himself to the reporter and the latter took his departure.

THE NEW ALDERMEN. A TRIBUNE reporter devoted yesterday to sounding the newly-elected Aldermen on the Mayeraity difficulty, and secretaining their probable action should there be an opportunity.

office and Mr. Hoyne, the Mayor-elect. In some instances the gentlemen interviewed had objections so expressing their opinions before consultation with their political friends; in others, a free expression of contempt for the usurper and admiration for the rightful claimant of the office was given, and promises made that Colvin would not be recognized unless the law peremptorily commanded it. The details of the interviews are as follows:

Mr. Aldrich thought it rather early to expres am opinion on the subject, especially in view of the fact that himself and confreres had had no the fact that himself and conferres had had no opportunity of consulting. He was prepared to carry out the instructions of the wards with regard to the repudiation of Colvin, if such a course were legally tenable. If there were any means of getting rid of Harvey, he would cheerfully adopt them. The city was in a bad shape at present, and matters would only grow worse if the usurper remained in power.

that was legal with regard to the Mayoralty.

Mr. Briggs, on being called upon at his store on Wabash avenue, said he had not been in favor of any nomination for Mayor; it would have been better, in his epinion, to leave the matter entirely to the Council. It would depend altogether on circumstances whether he would recognize Colvin. There were legal points which were to be considered, and might require some nice reasoning to decide. His sympathies, however, were with the majority of the people, who wished for His Honor's political demiss.

Vesterday afternoon a Taisuna reporter encountered on the street Aid. Culletton, and propunded to him the question.

constreed on the stress And. Conteres, and pro-pounded to him the question.

"As a member of the new Conneil will you re-fuse to recognize Colvin as Mayor?"

"I cannot tell."

"Have you determined what you will do?"

"Have you determined what you wan and "I have not."
"Will you take legal advice on the question?"
"I will not."
"What will you do?"
"No doubt many of the new Aldermen will take legal advice on the matter, and this they will submit to the new Council. After I shall have heard it, I will then determine."
"Will you recognize Mr. Hoyne as Mayor?"
"I cannot do that."

"Well, you see, the people—that is, the Citi-ens' Association—made a mistake."

"How so?"
"They made up a case and took it to the Supreme Court. There they were beaten by a tie vote. Then they applied to the Council to order an election and were defeated. That's where they made their mistake. They should have applied to the Council first, and in the case of its refusing, the application should have then been made to the Supreme Court. They commenced at the wrong end."
"But that is no reason why you should refuse

"But will you"

"Come along, Cullerton," said a gentleman standing near by, "time's up, and we must go," and thus the interview abruptly terminated.

BALLARD.

Addison Ballard, the new representative from Addison Ballard, the new representative from the Second Ward, was found at the office of his mamuoth lumber-yard on Fifth avenue. He has resided and done business in this city for a quarter of a century, has never held an office before, and is wealthy and above stooping to any political charlatanism. In answer to the question as to what he thought as an Alderman regarding the Mayor's prolonged term he replied:

'You may depend on it that my vote will not be given to keep him in office for one single day, I believe the people are disgusted with him, and I certainly am."

'But will you not vote to oust him from But will you not vote to oust him from

In that event would you be in favor of giving

"In that event would you be in favor of giving the office to Mr. Hoyne?"

Hardly, I think. Mr. Hoyne I have known for many years as a neighbor and a friend, but I do not think he has any idea of attaining to the Mayoralty, but rather that he allowed his very good name to be used in that connection solely for the purpose of demonstrating to the common enemy. Celvin, that his resignation was patiently but firmly awaited. I do not think that Hoyne cares to be Mayor Colvin's successor. Besides, as far as I have yet learned. I think the charter compels the Council to elect one of their own number to fill such a vacancy, and this I take to be the more popular course. There will be a sufficiency of good men to choose from, men that have not been heretofort talked of for the office of Aldermen, because of their eminent respectability—and I incline to the opinion that that will avoid all litigation, and make the order to vacate more importative. However, my views upon this point are sather crude, insamuch as I have given the matter no particular thought, and I am a rather green official as yet. I claim a fair amount of common sense, and think that faculty will control the official as yet. I claim a fair amount of common same, and think that faculty will control the new Council, instead of political favoritism as heretofore."

"Have you any particular Aldermen in view for the position, Mr. Ballard?"

"None whatever. There are a sufficiency of group ones." good ones."

Mr. Ballard's position having been thus clearly defined, the reporter hastened to learn the views of other electees.

GILBERT.

views of other electees.

GILBERT.

Mr. Gilbert, in answer to the reporter's questions, said he was in favor of Hoyne as opposed to Colvin, although he did not vote for the former. He was, however, a little doubtful as to the legal force of Mr. Hoyne's election, and excusd himsel from entering into the question before the Republican Aldermen had met and decided upon a policy.

Mr. James A. Kirk, one of the Aldermen elected in the Eightsenth Ward, was also called upon yesterday. This gentleman stated that he thought it would be a good 'thing if they could get Hoyne in as Mayor, for this would give them one more vote in the Council for reform,

"Only a portion of them. Now, you see, I have a reputation to make, and I must remain non-committal for the present."

In the Mayor's office Lawler is considered one of the "believers," and is chalked down as such, while it is a notorious fact that a month ago he was an opponent.

He was for putting Colvin and his bummers out any way, if it possibly could be done.

Mr. A. W. Waldo, Alderman-elect from the fitteenth Ward, was called upon by a Tabbung feporter last evening to learn his views regarding the Mayoralty question. The following conversation took place:

Mr. S. H. McCrga, one of the newly-elected Aldermen of the Twelfth Ward, was called upon at his office, No. 167 Washington street, where he is in the grain and commission business. The reporter asked him if he would recognize Tom Hoyne as the legally-elected Mayor, whether the Council consented to canvass the vote cast for Mayor or not. Mayor or not.
Mr. McCrea—I have bardly studied the sub-

May MoGres—I have bardly studied the subject sufficiently to state. It is altogether a legal question, and I would prefer to eay nothing in regard to that matter until I have had some advice and consultation on the subject.

Rep.—How do you view the matter of the incoming Board of Aldermen counting the Mayoralty vote in case the present Council refuse to canvase it on the ground of illegaint?

Mr. McC.—I can hardly answer that either. I am for ousting Colvin, body and breeches, but understand that the Concell has to select one of its own members to fill the vacancy for Mayor when the term is for less than one year.

Rep.—Then you cannot say what you propose to do?

Mr. McC.—No, sir. This election to the office of Alderman with me is a serious matter, on account of the present state of our city fluances. We must act cautiously, but out Colvin and his bunmers, and get people to again have confidence in its. I shall only labor for the good of the people, reduce expenses, and aid in restoring honest government to Chicago. This is all I can say to-day, and that I will do all I can to rid the city of Colvin's usurpassion of the office of Mayor,—for it is nothing several ment to this government to the present state of the city of Colvin's usurpassion of the office of Mayor,—for it is nothing several.

It is nothing more.

NIESEN.

Mr. Prank Niesen, who was elected with Mr. Waldo in the Fifteenth Ward, was also interviewed. This genteeman was rather undecided as to the course to pursue regarding the Mayorality question. Before expressing his opinion or taking a decided stand, he desired to consult a number of his constituents and see what action they thought was best. He was, however, decidedly opposed to the usurpation of Colvin, and would certainly go against him, but he was a yet undecided as to the best means to adopt to get rid of him. In regard to the sale of the Lake-Front, Mr. Niesen expressed himself as decidedly in favor of selling it for the price offered by the railroad companies.

cidedly in favor or selling it for the price offered by the railroad companies.

Mr. John T. Rawleigh, of the Twelfth Ward, was called upon by a Thinunk reporter at his residence, No. 731 West Washington street, last evening. That gentleman stated that he understood that the vote cast for Mr. Hoyne for Mayor was merely to show Colvin that he was not wanted longer in the chair he was usurping, and as indicative of the popular will, and with this end in view was supported by Republicans and Democrats alike.

As to recognizing Mr. Hoyne as the Mayor-elect, Mr. Rawleigh could hardly see how it could be done, but declined to give an opinion on the subject just now. He shought the Council had not the power to recognize or canvass the Mayoralty vote, but the incoming body could elect one of its own members to fill the vacancy in the Mayor's office. He wanted to see all the bummers, Colvin included, bounced, and would labor to have an investigation made in the Board of Public Works, and also to dispense with all the useless and worthless servance, including Sidwalk Lacactors and sunday retains finding. of Public Works, and also to dispense with a the useless and worthless sorvants, includin Sidewalk Inspectors and sundry other official and he would do his utmost to aid in restoria confidence in our public finances, and forcin economy upon all departments of the City Ger

A TRIBUNE reporter found Mr. Jacob Rosenberg, the newly-elected Alderman from the Second Ward, at his residence last evening. Although suffering from a violent headache, Mr. Rosenberg received the newe-seeker very affably, and the conversation took the following turn:

"Are you in favor, Mr. Rosenberg, of continuing Mr. Colvin in affice as Mayor?"

"I am decidedly not in favor of any such thing. I am in favor of getting Mr. Colvin out by every honorable means."

thing. I am in favor of getting air. Colvin out by every honorable meaus."

"Would you, as a member of the Council, work to have Mr. Heyne succeed Mr. Colvin?"

"I voted for Mr. Hoyne in the election vesterday, and I should certainly be in favor of having him for our next Mayor, and will do what I can towards that object."

"If you find that you cannot get Mr. Hoyee

"If you find that you cannot get Mr. Howee in, what will you do?"

"Yote for somebody in the Council to succeed Colvin."

"Have you any idea that there will be any obstacle to electing Mr. Howe?"

"I really don't know. There have been rumors and statements about the present Council refusing to canvass the votes and thus declaring the whole election void, but I can't believe the old members would so dare public opinion and public indignation. I don't know that there will be any difficulty in our electing and seating Mr. Hoyne, and I hope not, at any rate."

"Have you thought of anybody, in case Mr. Hoyne should not be successful?"

"No: I am acquainted with but one of the new Aldermen, Gen. Thompson, and no views have as yet been expressed in the matter. I know that I would not be a candidate, and I don't think my colleague, Mr. Ballard, would."

And that was Mr. Rosenberg's pesition in a fow words.

few words.

SHERIDAN.

The irrepressible Mark Sheridan comes again to the front. His rest from official duties since his deposition from the Police Board has given him plenty of time to reflect and ruminate upon the administration which bounced him, and which he has fought ever since it conspired to fraudulently carry the charter of 1872. In his new position he will fight Colvin most bitterly, and nearly every one knows by this time what Mark Sheridan is when he becomes beligerent. He was the objective point of the Colvin attacks in the past election, but in spite of it all he stell lives.

Sheridan will prove to be Colvin's most deadly enemy in his position, as the following interview with him yesterday will show. He was found enjoying a peaceful smoke in close proximity to the City-Hall, rejoicing over the disconsolates who were edging in and out about the Mayor's office.

"What are you going to do about it Mr.

the City-Hail, rejoicing over the disconsolates who were edging in and out about the Mayor's office.

"What are you going to do about it, Mr. Sheridan?" queried the reporter.

"Oh, I have expressed myself so fully against corruption and dangerous offictals that I don't think of anything else at present, and am aching for a situation where I can place myself upon record as fighting Colvin and his crew to the bitter end."

"Then you think he will be deposed?"

"Why, man, what are you talking about? Don't you know that he will be?"

"Then will you support Mr. Hoyne for the office?"

"No, I cannot say that I will, although I am happy to say that I had a hand and a voice in his somination. For various reasons I am in favor of electing one of the new members to fill that vacancy."

"Who, for instance?"

"Oh, I don't know yet. There are a sufficiency of good men to choose from. The rescue of the city from these infernal scalawage seems very close."

And so saying, Mark hurried away to his Bridgeport home to take a little sleep.

And so saying, Mark hurried away to his Bridgeport home to take a little sleep.

All good citizens will rejoice that there are some prospects of the conversion of Ald. Sommer for his entirely uncalled-for attitude towards Mayor Colvin. The Alderman learned at the polls that it was not the proper thing to vote for prolonged terms, and at once gave out signs of recanting, whereby he gained some considerable number of votes. It remains to be seen whether he will submit to the ideas of a constituency which was radical enough to boot away Colvin's emissaries and elect Mark Sheridan, or whether he will regard the ideas of his constituents as expressed at the ballot-box and at all ward meetings. If he does thus trifle with public opinion, his constituents will not be anxious to remain loyal to him.

THEOOP.

Mr. A. G. Throop, of the Eleventh Ward, was called upon at his residence, No. 13 South Sheldon street, last evening. He viewed the vote cast for Mr. Hoyne for Mayor as merely expressing the people's will against a further usurpation of the office by Harvey D. Colvin. As to recognizing Mr. Hoyne as Mayor, Mr. Throop thought that would hardly be possible. If the present Council did not canvass the vote cast for Mr. Hoyne, he thought the next body would have no right to do it, for on the same principle they might as well count their own votes. He believed in having a thorough change in the administration, but he also believed that Colvin was held responsible for a good many sins committed by the Council. Unless Colvin could show mighty good and legal reasons for holding on, he was in favor of putting him out, and he believed that this could only legally be done by electing a member of the next Council to take his place. He thought Colvin ought to have sone enough to reagn, now that the public verdict was so strong against his longer usurping the office of Mayor.

VAN CEDEL "Well, I can't say. I have paid no attention to the matter."
"Well you vote for Colvin's removal?"
"Now, I'll tell you; it is like this with me: I am a young man just starting into a political life, and have a reputation to make or undo; therefore I am going slow in this matter, and if there is to be any litigation in the matter I do not think I would favor it. The Mayor is merely the Executive officer, and is governed by the Council; therefore, If the Council be good, the Aministration will also be good. Still, is should prefer to be placed down as non-committed upon that point."
"But," interposed the reporter, "are you not aware that Hoyne received nearly every vote cast in your ward?"
"That hardly expresses the santiment, and I do not consider it as such. I was elected by both parties, and I know those who voted for me and other candidates cared but little who size besides their friends were en the tiokets."

"But you had Hoyne's name upon your tickets?"

"I well, I can't say. I have being moved in the same principle they might as well count their own votes. He believed in having a thorough change in the administration, but he also believed that Colvin out, and he believed that this could only legally be done by electing a member of the next Council to take this place. He thought Colvin ought to have sense enough to reagn, now that the public verdict was so strong against his longer usurping the office of Mayor.

Mr. John D. Van Osdel, one of the newly-elected Aidermen of the Ninth Ward, stated that he was not yet prepared to give me spinion on the same principle. If the council did not canvass the vote cast for Mr. Thy might as well count their own votes. He believed that their own votes. He believed that their own votes. He believed that Colvin out, and he believed that this could entry the count of the same principle they might as well count. Beyorier—The Tansune would be pleased to learn how you intend to act regarding the election of Thomas Hoyne for Mayor.

Mr. Waldo—I am not certain that it was lawful to elect a Mayor. In my opinion, Mr. Hoyne was voted for to get an expression of public sentiment regarding the continuance of Mayor Colvin in office. The result of resterday's election must have convinced that gentleman that he was no longer wanted and that the people are tired of him. For this reason I shall certainly take issue against him. If I find that it is lawful for Mr. Hoyne to assume the office of Mayor. I shall be pleased to see him installed. I believe, however, that the law provides that the Council shall select a Mayor from its own number. If this is found to be correct, I shall your for the shall select a Mayor from its own number. If this is found to be correct, I shall yote for the best man presented. I have been a reluctant candidate, and accepted the office merely because at this critical juncture it becomes the duty of every good citizen and tax-paver to make personal sacrifices to relieve the city from the grasp of the bummers.

Reporter—Another important question to come before the new Council will be the sale of a portion of the Lake-front for the purpose of building a grand union denot thereon.

Mr. Waldo—If it is legal to sell that piece of land, I am decidedly in favor of it. The rail-land, I am decidedly in favor of it. The rail-roads have offered a fair price for it, and if they are willing to assume the responsibility regarding the title I see no reason why they should not have it. The money will not only help the city in its present embarrasment, but the property in that neighborhood would also greatly enhance in value.

AT HEADQUAR TERS.

A bear with a sore head. A bull with a red rag before his eyes. Colvin, yesterday. The bummers sought his office naturally. They wanted consolation, and so did he. Had be been laid out stark and cold, physically as well as morally, a more gloomy set of mourpers would not have assembled. They warmed to him with pitying glaucee, and mung upon his lips as he meats. The office was a cave of gloom. Bummers came in and walked out noiselessly, edging along the walls like spiders. They all had sore heads and red faces, and they stunk of beer (two glasses for 5 cents).

It was a mournful gathering, and Colvin sat moodily at his desk, eying the gang with no look of welcome in his face. Now and then, when some follow would come up with words of comfort, the face of the ad interim would flush with anger. Again and again he turned to his desk to write, but the a ttempt was abortive, and he beat a wild tathoe with his finger-nails, and gave up the face.

A TRIBUNE reporter approached Colvin:
"Good morning, Mr. Mayor."

"What do you think of the new Council?"

"I cannot tell you, sir."

And then he turned to his desk again, and the tap, tap, tap of his tattoo rang through the office.

of course the principal topic of conversation yesterday at the head centre of municipal affairs was the election, and the expression of opinions was mainly confined to tickets. There being places for only six out of the aspiring fourteen, there were innumerable "splits" and combinations; indeed, there has never been an election in the village when there have been so few straight tickets. The result was, therefore, beyond the possibility of calculation until the full returns had been received. The following table shows the vote, the first which M. J. Bussell received all but about a score for Clerk.

The new Board will probably assume their duties Saturday, when little will be done except canvassing the returns by the old Board, and the election of a President by the new. For this latter position there are three members prominently named: Mesers. Bensley, Bogue, and Taylor, any of whom would preside with impartiality and ability. It is strongly urged that Mr. Bensley, naving received the complimentary indorsement of so large a number of his fellow-citizens, and baying served so acceptably in the present services are filled by men who will command public confidence the downfall of the Republican party is assured in the corning struggles.

coming year. On the other hand, the success of Mr. Bogne, in the face of strong opposition, is regarded by many as a personal victory, which entities him to the President's chair in the Board. For Mr. Taylor, it is urged that, having received the highest vote of all the candidates, the precedent of last year would demand his election.

the precedent of last year would demand his election.

All the members of the Board as at present constituted are pledged to an economical and careful administration of the affairs of the village, and two, Mesers. Bensley and Powell, have shown a record during the past year which mutitles them to the full confidence of their townspeople in the future. The new members, Mesers. Taylor, Farreil, Bogue, and Schland, have the esteem of their neighbors and soquaintances; having been alected "free of all ciques and combinations," they will be expected to show a spirit in accordance with their platform. There is every reason to believe, from the character of the whole Board, that there will be a return to an horses, completent and socurumbal management of the village affairs.

RAILWAY NEWS.

THE POOL RUN DRY.

The pool of the railroads leading from this city to the East died yesterday, after a protracted filness. It had convulsions and spasms for some time past, and on several occasions it was thought to be dead, but always railled again modore Vanderbilt there are but few who mourn its early demise.

As has already been stated in The Tamuns, the managers of the pool have been fighting each other for some time past, and but for the efforts of Scott and Vanderbilt a rupture would have taken place long ago. The meeting of the pool managers in this city last week was an unusually excited one. Mr. Newell, the General Manager of the Michigan Southern Railroad, was accursed by Mr. Joy and Mr. McCullough of having violated the agreement and cat rates from points in Michigan. Mr. Newell admitted this fact, but claimed that he was compelled to do so by the action of the Michigan Central Railroad, which allowed the Grand Trunk to make rates on its line. Mr. Joy stated that it was an outrage to expect him to creak up his friendly relations with the Grand Trunk, the best of all his connections. He was certain that Mr. Newell's desire was to ruin the Michigan Central by cutting it off from its connections.

Matters became so hot that Mr. Joy, it is said.

left the room where the meeting was neid in a great passion. Since that time great efforts have been made by Scott and Vanderbilt to heal the breach, and as a final resert they summoned the pool managers to New York for a consultation. It was held Thesday, and the result was the bursting of the obnotious pool. It was found that the breach between the various lines was so wide that nothing could close it. A statement was made that the Michigan Southern had been cutting the regular tariff-rates since late Saturday, and when upbraided for it announced its withdrawal from the pool, and the meeting was at an end.

In consequence of this the rates to the East are entirely out of joint, and freights are taken considerably below the regular tariff rates. Yesterday some of the roads contracted for grain to New York at 30 cents per 100; to Philadelphin at 97 cents, and to Baltimore at 26 cents. Fourthelass freights have also tumbled down, and are being taken at 85 and 30 cents per 100 from Chicago to New York. Both the Michigan Central and Michigan Southern Raifroads seem to be pleased that the pool has collapsed, and it is not likely that another such arrangement will be attempted, though the Pittsburg & Fort Wayne desires it. The Grand Trunk and the Eric Reliroads have both informed the Michigan Central that they will stand by it if Mesers. Soott and Vanderbilt make war upon it, and it is therefore prepared for the issue. THE SOUTH TOWN. Bran Fails to Reappear with His Report.

Patient Endurance of Much Impudence from Gleeson.

The South Town Board met at 7 o'clobk, with Justices Summerfield, Politak, Harris, D'Wolf, Foots, Wallace, the present Supervisor, R. T Lincoln, the new Clerk, Mr. Carver, and the ex-

Justice I would sented Mr. Litmooth if he had received the books from Mr. Ryan, and Mr. Lincoln replied that Mr. Ryan had said that his accounts had not been passed upon, but that he spull fix them up and present them at the pres-st meeting.

Mr. Ryan shortly appeared and stated that his books were not at hand, but he would go to the office of the South-Side Railway Company and return in half an hour. He went and the Board swated his return.

TOWN FINANCES.

Justice Pollak introduced the fellowing resolu-

Mr. Glesson—By what authority?

Justice Summerfield—By the action of the Town Board at its last meeting at the Pacific Hotel.

Town Board at its last meeting at the Pacific Hotel.

Mr. Gleeson—Was that a regular meeting?
Justice Summerfield—We won't stop to discuss that matter.

Mr. Gleeson—To stop all further talk, I want to say you can't examine this record unless the Town Clerk examines it with you.

Justice Summerfield—We will discuss that when we get to it.

Justice Haines thought it would be proper to have the ex-Town-Clerk present when the books were examined, masmuch as he was the custodism of the records.

The resolutions were finally passed, after being amonded so as to make the Committee consist of Justices D'Wolf and Haines and Supervisor Lincoln, and calling on them to report at a subsequent meeting.

ED PHILLIPS,

EX-Assessor, wanted the Board to appoint his deputies the assist him in making assessments. As he was the authorized Assessor, he modestly said he simply asked the Board to make the appointment.

As he was the authorized Assensor, he modesty said he simply asked the Board to make the appointment.

There was a smile of incredulity on the faces of all those present, and the recommendation was treated with silont indifference.

Mr. Gray, the new Assensor, each he wanted to select his assistants, and then let the Board appoint them. Justice Foliak thought this was minerally proper,

Ed Panings retorted that the Board didn't allow him this privilege last Jear, and was going or in my semesting about Justice Poliak and a shall, when the trate Justice leveled the foliaring as has:

"Mr. Faithing, please attend to your even business, and we will attend to ours."

This sectiod is for a moment. Then Justice Poliak saw the cool Phillips enjoying a nicket sign, and fulnimated an opinion that the bloards all who came under that description would vanish muting was not please for assenters, and he bound all who came under that description would vanish mut in air or some other place, and allow the hard to promod with its business.

Ed Philips wrinnings asked if that was under the statute, and Justice Poliak hooked dagmen, though he used none.

Mr. Gray would need and remised that he could not full until he knew how much of a job it was to assess the hout. Town property.

Mr. Glosson remarked with mone convolvy that he adm't believe Mr. Gray would need many assistants. No, not he, I has again avoided fusice Poliak who alconizated:

"Mr. Glosson, when we want your advice will ask for it."

Glosson remarked with mone accurated:

"Mr. Glosson, when we want your advice will ask for it."

prohibited.

The question of a new office for the Assessor and Coloctor was broached to hill up, the time before Ryan's return, and Justice D'Wolf moved that the Supervisor be appointed a committee of one to confer with the city authorities to secure a mitable office in the City-Hall.

Mr. Gray said at was impossible to find an office there. There wasn't oven room enough there for the human beings now huddled togethef in the rockery, and the motion was finally dropped, as it seemed impracticable, others moved to adjourn, and eat down. In a moment he was on his feet again, and said, "I don't think the ex-Supervisor will return this evening. In fact, I am pretty certain he will not."
Justice Summerfield, in answer to the motion.

Justice Summerfield, in answer to the motion, said he could not recognize Giecson as a member of this Board. He might remain, however, and would be secure in the rights to which he was entitled as ex-Town Clerk. But his interruptions would not help his case in any way. Glesson held his peace.

And Hyan came not.

Justice Foots moved that the meeting adjourn to sit another night, and that a special committee he appointed to receive the Supervisor's report.

port.
Justice Haines suggested that, as Mr. Ryan had had very little time to get up his report, it would be best to adjourn a week and let him suppley the interim is marking op his accounts. Justice Wallace moved to adjourn without day. He thought they would get no report at all.

Justice D'Wolf was in favor of Justice Haines' Justice D worf was in favor of Justice Haines motion with this amendment: That the ex-Supervisor be requested in the interim to submit his report to Supervisor Lincoln, Justice Haines accepted the amendment, and the motion was passed. The Board then adjourned. The next meeting will be held at the same place Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

ANOTHER PLANET.

AND ARRON, Mich., April 19.—Prof. Watson reports that he discovered, first on the night of the 18th inst., in the constellation Virgo, a planet hitherto unknown, the continued observation of which was interrupted by clouds. Last night he observed it satisfactorily, chining like a star of the eleventh magnitude. Its position is right assessment 13 hours 20 minutes; declination, 14 degrees 47 minutes couth. Its motion is retrograde, one minute daily, in right assessment, and nosth two minutes daily, in declination.

Fre Year, April 10.—A decision was given in the United States Court here to-day, denying the motion to restrain the playing of "Ferred," the Court sustaining the argument of Judge Mtenhaster, coursel for defendant, that plained Fremetics was country; to established law.

According to the official predictions, there will be little change of temperature in this Dom Pubno paid a flying visit to Chicago yesterday, merely passing through the city on his way to San Francisco. He saw enough to make him wish he could stay longer, and to make up his mind to give us a more ex-tended call when he comes this way again.

The Illinois State Democratic State Central Committee have fixed upon June 22 as the date of the State Convention for the selection of delegates to the National Convention. The Convention for the nomination of State officers will be held later on. It is understood that the Committee are strongly in favor of Judge Davis for the Presidency, and that they have no notion of serving as a tail to the Granger tite, but will urge the nomination of a ful

The South Town Board is engaged in an effort to straighten out the finances of the town, ascertain the debts and resources, and provide a plan for a general squaring of acprovide a pian for a general squaring of ac-counts. In this they are somewhat annoyed by the impudent bluster of En PRILLIPS and his pai GLEESON, who are evidently bent on making themselves as troublesome as possi-ble. These bummers have no longer any connection with town affairs, and the Board connection with town analys, and allow ahould treat them merely as meddlesome interlopers and disturbers, and politely but firmly show them the door.

The question of jurisdiction in the Bar. ENAP impeachment proceedings still stops the way to further progress. The House managers contend that BELEMAP was an officer of the United States until after the Commit se investigation and its impeachment preparktions were completed, his resignation to the contrary notwithstanding, as it was ten-dered with full knowledge of the intentions and preparations of the Committee. The tion, the House will file a rejoinder, and the case will not be resumed until a week from to-day. Meanwhile the Senators give no sign as to their views on the question of ion, which will consume much time before a decision is reached.

way in lobbying for the Texas Pacific job. There are competitors in the field who offer better and fairer terms, proposing to complete the road for the amount of the land-grant, to commence without delay and continue operations vigorously, and also to de-posit with the Govarnment $3,000,000 as a pledge of good faith. This is something of improvement upon the Scorr scheme, which contemplates an extension of eight years for the completion of the road, and a subsidy besides in the shape of a Govern-ment, guarantee of Texas Pacific bonds. and yet the Pennsylvania lobbyist is not absahed at the prospect; he still expects to "persuade" a sufficient number of votes to pass his bill.

The diplomatic controversy concerning the The diplomatic controversy concerning the extradition of Winshow promises to lead to the abrogation of the present extradition treaty with Great Britain. That treaty was made in 1842, and does not include or prowide for many of the improvements in crime which has taken place since then. The Brit-ish Government insists that, when the United States demand the return of a fugitive criminal, they shall state the crime which he is inal, they shall state the crime which he is accused of having committed, and, when he has been surrendered, that he shall be tried for that offense and not for some other one. As a principle, the British demand is probably correct, but there is no such provision in the treaty, and the present demand is therefore an addition to the treaty, and one to which the United States have not given their assent. If this complication will lead to which the United States have not given their ament. If this complication will lead to a new treaty, including the Dominion of Canada, it will be a national benefit. The proximity of the Canadian border, and the facility of reaching it, act as a constant defeat of justice, and make the British provinces an asylum for a population which is as detected there as it is needed here.

It is as yet too early to obtain from the Aldermen-elect an expression of their views and intentions concerning the Mayoralty, as many of them prefer not to commit themselves on that point until the controversy shall have assumed a definite shape. There is, however, little doubt that a majority of the members of the new Common Council are heartily disgusted with the usurper Cop-vin, and will do what shall seem to be best to rid the City Government of his connection with it. A question has been raised as to whether the retiring Council may not attempt to block the wheels of reform by refusal o delay to canvass the returns; but there is little likelihood that such a scheme is serious. ly contemplated. It would be attended with a degree of peril that few of the Colvinites in the old Council would dare to incur.

Blowly but surely the partisan hostility the Democrats and the malignant spite of the whisky-thieves are assisting the movement to nominate Secretary Baisrow as the Republican candidate for the Presidency. One by one their vicious slanders are promulgated, and one by one they are so prompt-ly and thoroughly refuted that the attention of the whole nation is centered on this man who seems to be absolutely slauder-proof. The dirty and disgraceful lie connecting Sec-retary lines ow's name with a corrupt bargain with Kentucky distillers, which was alleged to have been testified to before Banney Caulfingo's Committee, and which was given out to be telegraphed to Democratic papers and whisky-thieves organs, has called forth from Mr. Bristow a manly and dignified protest against such methods of investigation; an indignant denial of the alleged testimony, and a demand for an opportunity to be heard. It now transpires that no such testimony was given—at least, such is the explanation of the matter—but it is none the less certain that there was a deliberate plot to injure Mr. Baisrow by the publication of the slander. The thing falls to the ground, just as the mule and hog stories fell before it, and just as the later story falls concerning the Mexi-can titles to the Texas Pacific lands. Nothing sticks, except it be the stigma which attaches to Mr. Brisrow's defamers and the

The result of the charter election in Chi-cago is a grand victory, and primarily a vic-tory of the respectable element over the bummer element. The latter had notice to quit, and they accepted it. They had been practically repudiated by both parties. They were not in the field at all. There was only to their old practices. In the three other wards where they achieved a success—the Seventh, Eighth, and Seventeenth—the decent class of tax-payers were only defeated on account of the division among themselves. The most striking evidence of the retirement of the bummer class is to be found in the overing defeat of FRANK WARREN in the First Ward, who was confident of success. There are only eight arowed Colvinites re-turned to the Council, and these are the only ones among the newly-elected Aldermen who can be depended on to stand by the bummer and tax-eating interests. There are twentypected to represent the respectable tax-payers and heed the popular demand for retrenchment; but even if a few of these should fall from grace and disappoint the people who elected them, there will still reerty interests and decent people of Chicago. Coming down to party distinctions, the election was a glorious victory for the Repub-licans. Of the thirty-six Aldermen elected, only ten are classed among the Democrats and four of these may be counted on to act with the better Republicans in all questions ffecting local government. The election of the general ticket shows that Chicago is Republican by at least 5,000 majority when the opposing candidates are about equal in merit. a majority subject to reduction or increase according to the inferior or superior qualifica-tions of the Republican candidates. The de-feat of Mr. Lars, the Republican candidate for City Treasurer, by a majority for Mr. Baroos, the Democratic candidate, as large as that which the Republican candidates for the other offices received, is an evidence that the ndependent voter was abroad. He is likely eforth to assert himself with a strength that may make a change of 10,000 in the vote of Chicago. He is naturally inclined to vote the Republican ticket, but he will vote the Democratic ticket whenever the former is conspicuously bad or the latter notably good. He is no longer to be sneered at. The election of Mr. Bnicos, Democrat,— and certainly as good a man as could have een selected for the place, in the face of the lefeat of all the other Democrats by a maority of 5,000,-should be accepted as a warning to both parties. It is a notice to the Democratic party that they can only hope to overcome the Republican majority by nominating men of an infinitely higher order of merit; it is a notice to the Republic party that they can only count on their reguar majority in the city by nominating just as good men as their opponents can possibly put in the field. In the light of this experience, both parties should in the future nominate only their very best men, since neither can afford to risk the danger that the other will nake superior nomination But the good work of purifying the local Government is not yet completed. It was begun last fall by the defeat of the bummer party which nominated Mr. Hasing for County Treasurer. It was followed up by the defeat of the town bummers in all three towns, and the ejection of those in the South Town who endeavored to hold over by ballot-box tuffing. It was materially advanced by the victory of the respectable and tax-paying citizens in the charter election. It was signalized by the vote of $5,163 for Mr. bri, closing at $22.15 for May and $22.37; for June. Lard was active and 20c per 100 lbs lower, closing at $13.20 for May and $13.37; for June. three State Senators and twenty-one Repre entatives from Cook County. The same nergy will be required to purge the county flices of the taint of bummerism that was seessary in the case of the city offices. necessary in the case of the city omees. The Sheriff is the executive officer of the county, and the Board of Commissioners are the County Legislature. It is impossible to conceive that either the executive or the leg-islative branch should be in worse hands than at present. The Sheriff's office has been debased to the vilest possible uses. It has supported a lot of roughs and bummers in the subordinate places. Under its present management the impaneling both of grand and petit juries has been notoriously favorable to the criminal classes in office and ou of office. It should be swept clean. The retirement of five County Commissioners will enable the people to improve the character of that Board, which is peculiarly important in view of its part in the selection of juries and the extraordinary expenditures incident to the building of the Court-House. The five Commissioners who go out this year are Henring, Jourson, Bun-DICE, LONERGAN, and BUSSE. There can be a decided improvement in all these, un less it be Bundion and Busse, who have gen erally voted for the tax-payers. There should be equally strenuous efforts to secure the election of a more intelligent delegation to the Legislature than was sent two years ago. It has been demonstrated that bummerism is not very highly regarded by the State at large, and Chicago men can only secure recognition and attain influence on merit of the Sheriff in counties where the town officers are abolished. Unless Chicago shall be represented by men of ability in the next Legis lature, these reforms will not be secured. It is vital to the completion of the work of local reform that the same energy shall be exercised by reputable voters; that our best whether in the County Board or the Logisla. ture; that the workingmen and salaried classes shall be equally impressed with the facthat they bear their full share of local taxation and suffer most from the depressing influenbummerism shall be as completely routed in the county election as it has been in the recent city and town elections. THE INDIANA DEMOCRATS. There was a lively time yesterday among the Democrats in the State Convention of Indiana. The rival greenbackers, HOLMAN and LANDERS, were able to defeat one another, and they did it with a warmth that evidenced the bitterness of the fight. Lanpuns was nominated some months ago by the Greenback Convention for Governor, and the noney platform, but they objected to his accepting the nomination of any other party. The Convention, without a dissenting voice, was as intensely devoted to the greenback platform as was LANDERS, but to non LANDERS was to send HENDRICKS to the St Louis Convention loaded down with the most radical paper-money doctrines and lunatic theories. Nevertheless, LANDERS wanted less than 50 votes of a majority o the whole Convention. After a season of tumult and disorder, J. D. WILLIAMS, a Dem-peratic member of the present Congress, was The platform adopted was a pape one. It demands the withdrawal of the Natio al Bank note currency, and the substitution therefor of a new issue of legal-tender green backs, and the immediate repeal of the Resumption act, and nominated HENDRICKS for President. The platform is substantially the inflation resolutions repeatedly offered in Congress during the present session by Hotmon and Landers. There was an effort to avoid a State platform until after the St. Louis Convention, but the Rag-Baby Demo-erats of Indiana insisted that HENDRICES should go to St. Louis as a Rag-Baby candidate or go without the indorsement of his own State. Consequently, the Convention buried him under a platform which evoludes the possibility of his election and even the possibility of his nomination. The action at Indianapolis yesterday clearly indicates that if the National Democratic Convention nomi-nate a hard-money candidate or adopt a hardmoney platform, the Democrats of Indiana will support neither, but organize a third party, with old WILLIAM ALLEN OF LANDERS

THE PRESIDENT'S SALARY. The President is deserving of unstinted the salary attached to his office one-half. The reduction could not affect Gen. GRANT personally, since it could not constitutionally be operative until the close of his term, and there is no longer any thought of his renomination. His veto was, therefore, solely in deference to his honest conviction that the salary of $50,000 is not exorbitant. Having signed the bill in his first term which double the salary of the office during his second term, he could not consistently give his assent to a reduction of the salary to what it was before. In fact, there is reason to believe that many of those in Congress who voted for the reduction did so with the purpose of placing him in the embarrassing position of determining it; but he acted in the only way consistent with honor and fairness. The fact is that a great and perous nation like the United States ought not, and probably does not, desire o pay its Chief Executive at the rate of only half as much as the Domini Canada pays its Governor. The salary of $50,000 is not excessive in view of the high responsibilities assumed by the President and the extraordinary expenses incident to the tenure of the office. Recent action of Gen. GRANT in his private affairs indicates that he will go out of the office a poor man, notwithstanding the liberality of the nation to him as General of the Army before he became President. Instead of reducing the salaries of the officials in high places and with great responsibilities, the tendency of the time should be to increase them to at least a sufhibit is not very favorable to the motives of ongress. As a matter of fact, the move-ent seems to have been formed by a combination of the demagogues with the rem-nant of salary-grabbers who remain in Congress. The former thought in this way to win some cheap applause, and the latter sought a mean revenge for their own punish-ment for salary-grabbing. It will probably not be possible to pass the bill ever the veto.

CITY CERTIFICATES. On Tuesday the Judges of the Circuit and Superior Courts of this county designated Judge McAllisten to officially hear, the other Judges being present, an argument upon an agreed case instituted by Mr. Comptroller Haves to test the validity of the certificates of indebtedness issued by the city. The case was argued pre and con by the employes of the city, and by Mr. OBADIAH Jackson as a citizen. In the somewhat general discussion that took place Mr. Haves participated, directing his remarks to a ensorious criticism of the newspapers. Mr. HAVES seemed to be laboring under the idea that the newspapers had destroyed the credit of the city, and that had the newspapers kept silent the city could have gone on indefinitely ismaing certificates and borrowing money to pay them, until this form of public debt ex-ceeded even the bonded debt. It is a suf-ficient answer to Mr. Hayss to say that he as very narrow views of the functions of the daily press and of its duties to the public that when he assumes that it is evidence of a want of patriotism when the newspapers critiprotest in the name of law and of justice against the creation of debts of doubtful validity, he misunderstands what he is talking about. A very respectable Judge of one of the Circuit Courts of this State, and the only Judge to whom the question had been submitted, decided—with great confidence in the correctness of his judgment—that the issue of such certificates by a City Government was prohibited by the Constitution and he granted an order restraining their some or the payment of those already issued Because a Court, acting under its responsi pility to the law and in justice to the general public, considered such an injunction proper it does not follow that the learned Judge wa in any way wanting in patriotism. The by the professional opinions of a number of lawyers in good standing personally and at such opinions should have been furnished,

City Government.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has discussed this question of the validity of these certificates without the permission of the City Govern ment, and will continue to do so. This paper has never denied the right of the city to issue a certificate of lawfully-incurred indebtedness but this paper has questioned the authority of the city to create debts or "become in-debted" under the circumstances which have led to the issue of some of these certificates. We have also objected to the validity of the form of these certificates, especially to the recital that they were issued under certain sections of the laws of 1865-'9 which have been repealed by the charter adopted in 1875. The Constitution of the State and the charter of the city both prohibit the city from "be coming indebted " in any manner or for any purpose in excess of the constitutional limit We have argued that of necessity, and in the full contemplation of the Constitution, the city is authorized to provide all the machinery of local government, and to appropriate money to be paid in the future, the city levying taxes to cover the whole amount thus appropriated. The salary of the Mayor of the city is continuous; it is a debt accruing without intermission; but we have always held that it was a debt legal in every sense, and not falling within the prohibitions of the Constitution and charter. The fact that the vance does not affect the legality of the debt due to the Mayor for his salary. The debt itself being a legal one, the having "become indebted" to the Mayor for his salary being fully authorized by law and not prohibited by the Constitution, we see no violation of law in issuing to the Mayor a certificate that the city is indebted to him. The mere issuing of the certificate does not create a debt, because the debt exists beforehand; it is merely a change in the form,—the giving of a note as evidence of an acknowledged debt adding nothing to the demand against the city. Originally lawful, to issue a certificate that it is due can in no sense be construed as "becoming indebted" unlawfully. Mr. HAYES has chosen to disregard this view of the case, and to rely upon the authority of the sections of the repealed charter, and upon an ordinance of the Common Council authorizing the city to borrow money. It is perhaps fortunate that this matter he been put in a shape in which there can be a judicial opinion obtained. In addition to this case, the one from Springfield is before the Supreme Court, and there is, therefore, a promise of an early and authoritative judgment on the law involved.

THE TURKISH QUESTION.

The Turkish question, which has hereto-fore only intimately concerned Turkey and her rebellious Christian provinces, now begins to assume much graver importance as it involves Germany, Austria, and Russia. As these Powers now stand to-day, Austria is liable to interfere in Turkish affairs, Russia is openly encouraging Servia and other provnces immediately adjacent to her southern boundaries to revolt, and Germany is uneasily watching both, for fear that they may any moment break the triple alliance which Br MARCE was enabled to establish immediately

| Hepublican | Hep after the Franco-German war. Upon this alstatu quo, and settle European affairs by their mutual decisions. This alliance is now threatened by an unforeseen emergency,—the prospective retirement of the Czar and the resignation of his sovereignty into the hands of his son. The Czar is growing old, morbid, gloomy, and melan-choly, and his health is rapidly failing. He is about to leave for softer climes to obtain rest and recreation, and during his absence he will invest his son, as Regent, with full power. So long as the Czar was in power there was no danger of a disturbance of the triple alliance. In the first place, the family ties connecting him with the German Emperor were very strong; in the second place, he has been averse to war since the disas-trous lesson of the Crimea. His son, however, is "no such man." He is the representative of Young Russia, which advocates Russifying all the Christian provinces of Turkey. The London Spectator thus comruptey would be felt in a London middle-class house,ruptcy would be full in a London middle-class house,— the son has lacked that chastening experience. Above all, if we understand anything of the two characters, the father is a solf-distrustful man, who seeks advice and sees obstacles; the son an absolutely self-trusting man, one in whose mind to will and to set are almost synchronous emotions. He is even credited, though that may be more goosip, with the tendency to violent imperiousness which has marked at different times so many Princes of his house.

There can be but little doubt that the Czaremitch will reverse the position of his father.

witch will reverse the policy of his father, and that in this he will be influenced not only by his friendship for the oppressed Christians in the Turkish provinces, but also by his wife, the Princess Dagman, who has not yet recovered from the humiliation that was put upon Denmark by Germany. The rupture of the lliance therefore by the retirement of one of the parties to it, and the principal party upon whom Bismanck depended to preserve it un-impaired through this Turkish trouble, must entail upon the German Premier a new foreign policy with reference to the general condition of European affairs; and this of itself is sufficient to produce general distrust and depression in Germany. The situation upon the political chass-board therefore is substantially as follows : Germany is watching Austria and Russia with the utmost uneasiness, and is apprehensive that very serious events are close at hand requiring a new German policy. Austria, which is desirous of quiet, naturally leans toward Turkey and the suppression of the Herman segovinian revolt so very decidedly that there has already been a rupture between the Austrian and Russian Courts, followed by the resignation of the Russian Minister, Novimore, at Vienna. Russia has alread; shown her policy, by giving the Servians to understand that, if they decide to join in the revolt, none of the Great Powers shall interfere with her, which is just as valuable assistance to the insurgents as if the Bussians had sent them men and war material. key is still working away to put down her rebellion, with about as much success as Dame Partinoton had when she tried to mop the Atlantic out of her house. The only other Powers worth considering are England and France. The former sits quietly by eating her Egyptian cake, contented with anything that may happen, since she has a mortgage on Egypt, and her Queen, by the addition of Empress to her title, will be as Imperial as any one in the other three Empires. France's opportunity for an alliance may come when the other Powers get fairly into motion, and, if Germany interferes, it is not impossible that the Czarewitch may find a close friend in France. What will become of the insurgents in case the Great Powers shall mix in he conflict, no one can tell beyond the very ticles—as purely sensational attacks on the palpable fact that they will be partitioned and devoured past all recognition

The victory over the Aldermanic bumme would have been more complete if the riends of reform and honesty could have adjusted their irreconcilable differences as Aldermanic candidates, and concentrated their strength on two men in each ward: but they persisted in scattering and dividing their votes among a mob of candidates, and thereby defeated themselves in several wards. Thus in the Seventh Ward they ran siz candilates, and of course let the "crooked " bumherskite Hildren slip in between them. The Republican vote cast for City Clerk was 1,169, the Democratic vote 2,323 total, 3,492, and yet HILDRETH, who received only 1,275 votes, or one-third of the num ber polled, is elected. Had his opponent mited their strength he would have been overwhelmingly defeated. In the Fifth Ward (Bridgeport) the opponents of Som-MER, who voted to keep Colvin in office, split up their strength among five candidates and thereby elected him. The Democratic vote of the ward was 2,598 and the Repub lican vote 1,130, and yet SOMMER, who only got 1,524 votes, is elected. In the Sixth, which is the southwestern ward, the Repub licans polled 1,397 votes for City Clerk against 1,504 for the Democratic candidate, elect three Aldermen, and of course elected none. In the Eighth (old Ninth), which is verwhelmingly Democratic, they ran four candidates, but by good luck about a thousand Democrats voted for one of them. and elected him, beating the Convin bummer BAILEY. If there had been any unity of action among the friends of SPOTFORD, PIERCE, and ROESSING, the other bummer, O'BRIEN, would also have been laid out, for he only received 1,554 votes out of the 2,845 Democratic votes that were cast. The Republican vote alone, if it had been concer trated, would have smashed him. One seat in the Council from the Thirteenth Ward was lost by partisan quarreling, the Republicans WHEELER (Dem.) slipped in between ther beating Qurax (Rep.) by 43 votes. nak Mr. Smith to step down and out on ac count of irregular practices. The Assistant Journal Clerk is also rapidly getting himself into trouble. It now appears that one of the Democratic Doorkeepers has been retired, that two other officers of the House, Gen. BOUGHTON, clerk of the Military Committee, and GREEN ADAMS, of the Committee on Expenditures in the Post-Office Department, are under investigation, and that another high officer of the House is soon to be investigated upon charges of having been indicted two or three times for very grave offenses. This makes seven all told that have turned up in the short time the Democrats have had the majority in the House. This is certainly making rapid progress, considering their time and oppor-tunities. But if they can accomplish such results as these with only the control of the House, what might they not be able to effect with the control of the Government and its immense patronage? The question is worthy of serious consideration by the average voter, as opening up vistas of reform in the event that the Demograts gain control of the Government next fall. If they can so successi fully pack the House committees, what will they not do when they have an opportunity to pack the custom-houses, revenue offices, post-offices, and other departments under

The London Times has been disc general question of Presidential elections in this country, especially with regard to the "color-less respectabilities," as it calls them, who have ADAMS and JEFFRESON, and, in commenting upo the causes of the sterility, tells some very plai home truths, which are specially remarkable home truths, which are specially remarkable as coming from an English spectator of our national system of politica. The Times says:

How to use all the forms of democratic rule so that millions of people shall nominally be free to choose any person and yet in reality be as clearly forced to accept a particular man as if they lived under an iron despotiam, is a problem which the jwirepullers of the United States have solved with such skill as to be beyond the language of adulation. The report that the Sultan offers to compromise with his Jewish creditors by turning over to them the Holy Land in payment of his bonds, has started anew the stories about the schemes of the Jews for return of their people from all quarters of the globe to Paiestine. Christian tradition assigns to them an irrepressible longing to do that same, and now the opportunity is for the ROTHSCHILDS to pay what would be a mere bagatelle for them, as the papers which are running the story for the dozenth time put it, and the dream of Judea may be fulfilled. All which is very fine, but nobody has yet dis-covered among the Jews of London, Frankfort. An amusing controversy has grown out of the production of "Twins," Mr. A. C. Wheeler's play, in New York. Mr. Wheeler is a dramatic and musical critic of many years standing and quite as high pretensions as his quality will allow. In the course of his professional duties he has had occasion to offend many managers, among the rest, it appears, Max Maretzek. The birth of Mr. Wheeler's "Twins" gave these managers just the opportunity they had been waiting for. Maretzek sent to one of the papers and had published a notice of the play and the anthor, which, though not flattering, was in the main just. Wheeler replied somewhat cavalierly in a card to the Graphic. Maretzek now rejoins in crushing manner. He says: "Mr. Wheeler pretends to say that I employ other persons to write for me. This at all events would be a prudent proceeding, and I advise Mr. Wheeler by prudent proceeding, and I advise Mr. Wheeler by all means to have his next play written by somebody also than himself." As to Mr. Wheeler's capacity as a critical means to the state of th Baccei needed the voice of a Tamburini to air the part of Pollio. Out of the 2,000 person present on the occasion the too sensitive and critical Mr. Wheeler was probably the only per-son who did not know that Tamburini was s aritone, and that the role of Polito was written

INDIANAPOLIS, April 19.—According to their

These were reinforced by a tremendous outside pressure from the unterrified who want more money and cheaphave it end in repudiation to the financial have it end in repudiation to the financial geniuses of the cross-roads who would have the Government make everybody prosperous by issuing currency direct to the people. The inflationists, with Landers as their candidate, would have to-day taken sides unmistakably and irrevocably with the ex-treme rag-money inflation, side. The object of their grand demonstration side. The object of their grand demonstration was to do that. Landers had his money to back him, his im-mense personal popularity, and the overwhelm-ing sentiment of the Democratic masses of

HENDRICKE HAD POSSESSION OF THE MACHINE.
He had the co-operation of Senator McDonaid,

Handricks. The first victory of the Handricks faction was in securing the election of T. R.
Cobb. of Vincenna, as Chairman of the Convention. The plot was to until each killed off the other, when Congressman Williams, whose homespun suit and uncouth manners have endeared him to every Granger, was to be nominated. Williams' strength, aside from this, consists in the fact that he is an infationist of the most rampant, lunatic type, which was calculated upon to secure for him the full inflationist vote, while the platform was to be contrived to stretch from Maine to California to suit the views of everybody. Cobb, who at the last Congressional contest was defeated in Convention by Williams, was especially inter-ested in this programme, for the sake of getting Williams out of the way in the Congressional race this fall. THE SEATS.

To facilitate the execution of the plot in the seating of the delegates, the Landers men were showed away in the galleries at the Academy of Music, while the managing men and the delegates who were to play for Holman until the time came for them to be turned over to Williams were assigned the parquette and dresscincie, where they could easiest secure recognition from the Chair and be more readily manipulated from the stage. According to programme, Holman was nominated from the parquette. From the galleries shouts for Landers drowned the feeble apology with which Holman's name was received. A score of men sprung to their feet to nominate Landers, and one of them, J. J. Smiley, of Putnam, tried to get off a speech eulogistic of the greenback champion. He was incontinently squelched by yells from the Holman crowd. This put the Landers cohorts upon their metils, or rather upon their lungs, and they

This put the Landers cohorts upon their mettle, or rather upon their lungs, and they sext up such might show the from the galleries as completely silenced their opponents. In the midst of the uproar, Landers, who was a delegate from this (Marion) county, got upon a seat in the gallery and began a harangue, remarkable alike for the ferosity of his attack upon Judge Holman, and for the servile tone in which he (Landers) besought the Convention to nominate him, while, at the same time, he pretended to withdraw his name. He said that he was under a covenant—with Holman that his (Landers) name should not be brought before the Convention in opposition to Holman; that Holman had declared that, is no event, would he be a candidate. Upon that understanding Landers had suffered himself to be placed in nomination, but he couldn't control Holman's friends,—he could only control himself,—and he said, with quavering voice and almost in tears, "I now demand that my name be withdrawn." The speech was, in fact, a histempt was made to take Landers at his word and nominate Holman by acciemation. That was not in the Hendricks programme, and the Chair did not recognize the mover, but before the motion could have been put, the tumult in the galleries choked off the mover and his seconds.

who officiated as leader of the Holman men, then launched forth into a topliftical panegyric upon Judge Holman, in the midst of which the tunuit among the greenback class in the galleries was redoubled. The din and uproar was such at this juncture that it was impossible for anything to be done or for sayone to make himself heard. Slack could only saw the air with his arms and utter inarticulate yells, while a score of men on the floor and in the second and third tiers also sawed the air with their true and valled louder, and all was lost in the furious commotion. It went until more than TALL THE 5,000 men in the building, as if by some contagion, was furiously gesticulating and yelling thermalive hours. That was not in the programma, and Chairman Cobb was equal to the emergency.

he simply ordered the band to play, and the horns were tooted until partial order was restored. Then Slack, foilowing Landers' declisation tactics, withdrew the name of Holman, and Dan Yoorhees and Congressman Williams were nominated. A call of the roll of counties was begun, and, notwithstanding their withdrawal, both Landers and Holman were voted for. Before half-s-dozen counties had been called the din was renewed, and BECAME SO FURIOUS!
that proceedings were again stopped, when the Committee on Resolutions made their report. Then Holman was again nominated by a whole host of enthusiastic adherents in the galleries. Yoorhees' name was withdrawn, and the Chair attempted to force Williams upon the Convention by announcing that Holman and Landers having been withdrawn, Williams was the only candidate before the Convention. Thereupon the tumult was renewed. Landers attempted to speak again. He was silenced by the tremendous uproar all over the house. Austin Brown, one of his leaders, shouted from the gallery that if Landers wasn't permitted to speak nobody should be heard. That was the signal for a FERTECT FANDEMONIUM in the galleries. Finally Landers was allowed to should be heard. That was the signal for in the galleries. Finally Landers was allowed to proceed, and, with greater excitement than before, proceeded to repeat his speech of a few minutes previous, adding thereto that there was a plot to prevent his nomination, in which the Republicans were participants. He did not, however, believe Holman was a party to it. He wound up by again withdrawing, which was, in reality, beseeching his friends to stand by him. J. S. Williams, of Lafayette, got the floor and urged the Convention to drop both Holman and Landers, and a lected severely on the friends of the latter far persisting in forcing him upon the Convention, but the Landers men had not yet been killed off by the Holman trick, and were confident of victory. At the conclusion of Williams' speech the Dearborn County delegation, from Holman's own district, withdrew him and put in nomination Landers. Gen. Manson was also nominated, and again the brass horns were tooted and were tooted and

to drown the uproar. The Chair then announced that everybody was nominated whom any delegate wanted to vote for, and the roll-call was commenced anew. As the votes were given on either side the announcement was greeted with cheers and yells, and amidst such a Babel as was never before beheld in this city, the call was finally completed. What we vote actually was nobody pretends to know, at, in the furious tumult that prevalled, it was in possible to get at it exactly.

FIVE SECRETARIES WORKED AT IT in sepanate divisions. When it was summed up, though, there were 22 votes not accounted for at all. As announced from the Chair, the vete was: Holman, 916½; Landers, 898; Williams, 28; Manson, 23. The friends of Landers attempted to challenge the vote as declared, since obviously 23½ votes had not been accounted for at all, but the Chair ignored the demand, and the vote was not verified. had not been accounted for at all, but the chair ignored the demand, and the vote was not verified. The se 23½ votes would have fetched out Landers ah sad, provided they were cast for him, as is claimed, they were. On the other hand, there were tona-fide supporters of Holman not in the Hendri-the plot who CLAIM That HOLMAN WAS NOMINATED on the first ball of. Certain it is that somebody was cheated on the count, and about certain is it that every man in the Convention now knows that such was the fact, but the plot was to kill off both Landers and Holman. The Chairman, who was selected to carry out that programme, did his part towards it by announcing the figures as given, though he must have known they were wrong, and a second vote was ordered. The most authoritative rep ort is that, on the true announcement of the result, Holman would have had 974 votes. 24 more than were needed to nominate him. By however, Holman's chances were then and there terminated, and the second ballot was, in fact, between Williams and Lan Sera. The latter again attempted to give that curious speech of his, withdrawing his name, but, in fact, imploring his friends to stick to him. That speech, however, had already been repeated once too often. Gen. Slack followed in a repetition of his speech, withdrawing Holman. Then, the time being ripe for it, the Hendrick managers, who had the Convention completely under their control, set about transferring the Hodman vote to Williams, and amidst

"UMMING UP.

The result of the day sproceedings was neither a defeat of the inflationists nor a victory for honest-money Democrats, if any such there-were here to-day. It was wholly and purely a iriumph of the chief political huckster of these times, who wants to go to St. Louis untrammeled to dicker for the Presidential nomination. He has all his life dodged making a record, and his success has been is dodging all live issues and in committing himself to se principles not susceptible of double interpretation. That is what his managers to-day succeeded in making the Democracy of Indiana do for him. They are INFLATIONISTS OF THE MOST BAND SOUT.

In Indiana, the platform will be construed as meaning rag-money inflation, and nothing else. Outside the State the Hendricks men tonights confidently claim they can make the platmittee appointed for that purpose, and, after passing a vote of thanks to the officers, the Con-vention adjourned sine die.

Second—The repeated exposures of corruption in the administration of every branch of public affairs call for continued and thorough investigation, not only that corrupt practices may be brought to hight and guilty parties to punishment, but also that it may be made clear to the people that their only remedy for reform is by making a general and thorough change. Third—That retrenchment and economy are impossible in the Federal, State, and municipal Administration as an essential means towards lessening the burdens of the people, and we commend the efforts of a majority of the House of Representatives for the reduction of the expenses of the Federal Government to a just standard, and their determination to lessen the number of useless officials.

Fourth—We believe in four sucient doctrine that gold and silver are the true and safe basis for the currency; and we are in favor of measures and policies that will produce an uniformity in value in the coin and paper money of the country without destroying or embarrassing the business interests of the people.

Fifth—We oppose the contraction of the volume of our paper currency, and declare in favor of the adoption of meass looking to the gradual retirement of the circulation of the National Banks, and the substitution therefor of circulating notes issued by authority of the Government.

Bittli—We recognize with patriotic satisfaction the vast recuperative energies with which our country is endowed, and we observe that, in spite of the interference with the laws of commerce which has been practiced, our currency has improved as our wealth has increased, and the sense of national snd local security has been confirmed. We are therefore of the opinion that a natural return to specie-payments will be promoted by the increase of national wealth and industries, by the assurance of harmony at home and peace abroad, and by strengthening our public credit under a wise and economical administration of our national affairs.

Beventh—The legal-tender notes constitute a safe currency

tion and the substitution insector or restumal paner.

Eighth—The act of Congress for the resumption of specie payments on the lat of January, 1879, was a party measure, devised in secret caucus for party ends, and forced through the House of Representatives without the allowance of amendment or debate, under party discipline. It paralyzes industry, creates distrust of the future, turns the laborer and producer out of employment, is a standing threat upon business men, and should at once be repealed without any condition whatever.

of employment, is a standing threat upon basiness men, and should at once be repealed without any condition whatever.

Ninth—he Democrate we may indulge in laudable pride at the great success of our common-school system, which had its origin in Democratic policy, and its development in Democratic measures. We will stand by and forever maintain our constitutional provision which guarantees our common-school fund from diminution and misappropriation, and its use only to the support of non-sectarian common schools, and we denounce as enemies of the schools the Republican politicians who, for party ands, have sought to bring them into political and sectarian controversy. Tenth—We believe that a license law, properly guarded, is the true principle in legislation upon the liqube traffic.

Eleventh—It is not the right of any political party to make the just claims of the Union soldlers, their widows and children, the subject of partisan controversy, for such rights are most secure when protected by all the people, and are endangered only when thrown into the political arens by demagogues. We will stand by and maintain their rights to honors, to pensions, and to equal bounties, not as partisans, but because it is our pleasure and duty as citizens.

Twirth—That the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts in civil causes has been so extended as to become burdensome to the people in increased expense, and compelling them to try their causes at places remote from their homes.

Thirteenth—We approve the bill which recently passed the House of Representatives prohibiting members of Congress and all officers and employes of the United States from contributing money to infuence elections.

of the United States are a fine of the United States are fluence elections.

Fourteenth—We are opposed to the assumption by Congress of debts of the District of Columbis which were contracted by the late corrupt ring, and we believe the Government abould pay her equal and just proportion for local improvements the same as other were contracted by the late corrupt ring, and we beheve the Government should pay her equal and just owners of property, and no more.

Fifteenth—That the people of Indians recognize with pride and pleasure the eminent public service of the Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks; that in all public trusts he has been faithful to duty, and in his public and private life pure and without blemish. We therefore declare that he is our unanimous choice for the Presidency of the United States.

Sixteenth—That the delegates to the Democratic National Couvention, this day appointed, are hereby instructed to cast the vote of this State in said Convention as a unit in such manner as the majority of the delegates may determine.

Beventeenth—We are opposed to the payment of any Beventeenth—We are opposed to the payment of any part of the Rebol debt, to the payment of anything rhatever for emandipated slaves or the property of lebels destroyed in the War.

THE ILLINOIS DEMOCRACY.

Special Dispatch to the Chicago Pribune.
Springfield, Ill., April 19.—The Democratic State Central Committee convened here at noor to-day, the Hon. William Brown, of Jackson ville, Chairman, presiding. The members from several of the districts were absent, and their fourteen districts represented in person or by proxy. A Committee, of which F. H. Winston, of Chicago, was Chairman, was appointed to fix the basis of representation, and reported, taking the vote for S. M. Etter in 1874 as the basis, the vote for S. M. Etter in 1874 as the basis, with one delegate for every 500 and one for every extra 250 votes. It was decided to hold a Convention to select delegates to the National Convention, such Convention to meet here on June 22 next.

THE QUESTION OF A SECOND CONVENTION to nominate a State ticket was deferred, and the Committee adjourned to meet here June 22. The conversation among those present revealed a decided preference for Judge David Davis as the Presidential nominee, and for the Hole S. S. Marshall for Governor. The idea of nomi-

ILLINOIS. WASHBURNE, BEVERIDGE, AND MARLOW. To the Editor of The Chicago Trib SHAWNEETOWN, Ill., April 17.—The gentlemen who vegetate in and around the State Capitol at Springfield are just now flooding Lower Egypt with their official epistles. The Washburne movement seems to have driven them further outh with the attenuated schemes of thin poli icians. Indeed, there is scarcely a cross-roads ticians. Indeed, there is scarcely a cross-roads statesman in all this region but who can excite the merriment of his friends in copperac-colored breeches by flourishing in their faces letters from His Excellency the Acting-Governor, or from the Secretary of State's office. Harlow's clerks, or rather the State clerks in his employ, trot hither and you, while those of them not out on the road are scattering stereotyped letters as on the road are scattering stereotyped letters as thickly as the leaves are said to have strewn the Valambrosa. Beveridge never fails to begin his effusions with the sentence "I recognize in you the leading politician of — County," etc., etc. Those from Harlow's office generally comefusions with the sentence "I recognize in you the leading politician of — County," etc. etc. Those from Harlow's office generally commence with "I recoilect with pleasure our associations and friendly intercourse in the Union League," etc. By the way, for how long a time is he going to run for office on that Union League dodge? It seems to be getting rather thin. If I am correctly informed, this mustang "Colonel," got pay for all the time and service he devoted to the League. For the past twelve years it has been his stock in trade in a political way, and it would seem that his competitor, Mr. Scroggs, was politically very short-sighted. He should have been at home bumming around in the Union League instead of serving in the army, as I understand he did. The whole thing grows sublimely ridiculous when the "Colonel" addresses one of his jelerically-written Union League letters to an old soldier. Having in his office a record of all the county officers in the State, many of the Union League documents fall into the hands of men who were rank and outspoken Copperheads during the War. In either case the effect is the same, for when a Cop gets one he breaks into a horse laugh and reads it to his political chums, but when one is sent to an old soldier who was "marching through Georgia" when the "Colonel" was getting big pay for instituting Leagues, he is very api to say "that's too thin." If Harlow had given half the time to preventing the disgraceful printing steal of the Springfaid Ring he would stand higher in the estimation of Illinois Republicans than he now does. The shameful robbery of the printing pirates cost the people of this State thousands of dollars. This robbery was effected through the Secretary of State's office, and in 1874 was the subject of an investigation. The result of that investigation brought the bush to many a cheek, and I earnestly hope that Republicans may not have to excuse and explain that matter for Harlow during the campaign of this pear. The Committee on Printing made the whole robbe

CENTENNIAL.

KANSAS.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribuns.

Atchison, Kan., April 19.—To-morrow the Kansas State Board of Centennial Managers hold a meeting at Topeka to make arrangements for forwarding to Philadelphia the exhibit of State products. Information was received here to-day that the Kansas building would be completed and ready for the reception of goods by the 1st of May. The Kansas collection is very large, and will equal in quality any similar exhibit ever and exceedingly attractive display of agriculthe State, a fine display of minerals, and speci-ments of timber-growth, building stone, manu-factured products, and curiosities. The Atchi-son, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Company will Actured products, and curiosities. The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Company will make a handsome exhibit of Kansas and Colorado products in the same building. The Territory of Colorado will unite with Kansas, exhibiting in one department of the Kansas building a splendid collection of her minerals and other articles of interest. The Kansas Legislature of 1875 made an appropriation of $5,000 for a Centennial exhibit, and the Legislature of 1876 appropriated an additional $3,300. The Kansas building, now being erected at Philadelphis, will cost $10,000. A Kansas band has been organized to furnish music at the State building during the Centennial. John A. Martin and George A. Crawford, National Centennial Commissioners for this State, leave for Philadelphia next Saturday to be present at the annual meeting of the Commission. The Kansas collection will require twenty cars to transport it.

DOLAN, THE NEW YORK BURGLAR, DOOMED.

Special Dissalch to The Chicago Tribune.

New York, April 19.—For six months the fate of John Dolan, the murderer of James H. Noe, has hung in the balance, and between new trials and Executive clemency it was believed by many that he would finally escape. To-day, however, his fate was decided by Governor Tildeo, who ent word that the sentence of death must be carried out. A reporter of THE TRIBUNE called on Dolan at the Tombs soon after noonday.

Soon after 1 o'clock Dolan's counsel, Howe and Hummel, entered the Tombs and the prisoner was called out of his cell to receive the worst news that could possibly overtake a man. It was virtually his death-warrant. Dolan read the awful truth in the solemn countenance of Mr. Howe, who held a crumpled dispatch in his hand. A perceptible shadow passed like a flash over the face of the doomed man, and that was all. With one hand resting on his cell-door, he turned from his friend, a young woman who had of deep silence which followed. When his eye "John, I am pained to tell you that, after all ur efforts in your behalf, the Governor has declined to interfere in your case. This is painful, but I thought I ought to give you the earliest possible notice of it."

Dolan merely said: "I expected it."

Mr. Howe continued: "John, I have made every possible effort to save you. If I had gone myself to Albany I might possibly have reproached myself, but, since Mr. Beach went, I think verything possibly has been done."

Dolan said: "I believe it, and I thank you a little 5-year-old boy was cruelly beaten to death by a drunken step-father. The facta, as THE TRIBUNE correspondent learns them, are as follows: John Burgeson, a laborer, moved his household goods yesterday from a former place of residence, in the country, to a house owned by C. C. Schudder, in Oneids. He was assisted by a Swede named Erickson, After the moving had been completed, Mrs. Burgeson prepared supper for the men and Burgeson prepared supper for the men and her little son. After eating, whisky was indulged in until the men became intoxicated and quarrelsome. At a late hour Erickson left, and Mr. and Mrs. Burgeson retired to bed, taking with them the little boy. During the night a quarrel took place between the man and wife, which resulted in the latter leaving the house to find protection with a neighbor for the remainder of the night. In the morning Mrs. Burgeson sent s man named Nelson over to her house to see how affairs were situated. On entering the house Burgeson was found sleeping on the bed, and in an adjoining room on the floor lay the little boy dead. His body was crushed and bleeding, stamped all over with the marks of boot-heels, and looking as though he had been taken by the heels and thrown violently against the floor or wall, Burgeson, on being arrested, professed to known orthing of the affair. Erickson was found, and also pleaded innocence, but on his boots were found clots of blood, and the supposition is he must have entered the house after the mother had left and assisted in the murder-ous deed. He is also under arrest.

The latest from Brownstown, W. Va., says:
"The negroes boarded an east-bound train without tokets or money, and compelled the conductor to carry them East."

OINCINNATI, O., April 19.—The Gazetic's Charleston (W. Va.) special to-night says the troubles at Brownstone are not yet ended, and the negroes have not gone away, as previously reported. Last evening the rioters went to the office of Contractor Dell and notified him that, unless the negroes were sent away, the rioters would hang every negro, and himself with them. Dull went to Charleston, asked aid of the authorities, and, with the Sheriff and 100 citizens, returned to Brownstone this afternoon. No further advices have been received from the scene of disturbance.

New York, April 19.—In the suits in behalf of the city against the members of the Tweed Ring, for the recovery of the amounts of which they plundered the public Treasury, counsel for Garvey, the Ring plasterer, filed an answer yes-terday, stating his willingness to restore his share as soon as the amount can be assertained. condition when sold by Sutor to Wheeler, and that its former President, Mr. Sutor, is likely to be shown to be as great a criminal as Wheeler. He was, it is believed, behind some $100,000 when disposing of the bank. Stone, the Vice-President, will undoubtedly be discharged, as nothing so far has been developed to criminate him.

CROPS.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 19.—Wheat sowing has been pushed rapidly on the high lands the past two days. The low-lands are too wet. Should good weather continue more than the usual acreage will be sown in the State, as farmers have an abundance of wheat on hand uncold on account of the low price and poor flouring qualisecount of the low price and poor flouring qualities.

Special Dispatch to The Chicage Tribuns.

Kenker, Is., April 19.—Spring wheat sowing in this section is about finished. The area, which is always small, is usually so this spring, farmers deeming the venture an unsafe one on account of the lateness of the season, and preferring to risk oats and corn instead. An average area of fall wheat was sown, and the crop is generally reported as very promising, although there are some exceptions.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribuns.

Iowa Cirr, Is., April 19.—Spring weather seems now to be with us in tills section of the State. Since last Monday the roads have dried up so they are quite passable, and vegetation is advancing rapidly. The farmers are hard at work putting in small grain. Very little plowing was done in this locality prior to last Monday. Since then considerable has been done. There has been sown up to this time less than one-fourth of the acreage of spring wheat that was sown last year, but farmers from various localities in this and adjoining counties say that there will be a full average of spring wheat, as well as of oats and barley sown this spring. Much of the ground for spring wheat was plowed last fall. From present indications there will be as large an acreage of spring wheat sown this spring as there was last.

ROCKFORD, ILL.

ROCKFORD, ILL.
Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribuna.
ROCKFORD, Ill., April 19.—The farmers in this section of the country do not sow much wheat Winter wheat is almost an unknown crop, and the average farmer will not often sow spring wheat in excess of what he actually consumes, it does not yield over 10 or 12 bushels as it does not yield over 10 or 12 bushels to the acre. The past week or so has been a busy one with the farmers, and the small grain will soon be all in. So far as your corresponden can learn, there will be more spring whea sowed this than last year, bu sowed this than last year, but in that case the entire crop of wheat, after the home market and our numerous flour-mills have been supplied, will not amount to much. To show more fully the little importance of the wheat crop in Winnebago County, allow me to make an extract from the books of Agard & Ross, our heaviest grain-buyers, which show the number of bushels of grain bought in seven months, as follows: Wheat, 9,200 bushels; corn, 42,500; cats, 40,859. The same firm, in that time, shipped but 6,675 bushels of own, an in the time, shipped S,335 bushels of wheat, while they shipped S,335 bushels of or mad 56,250 bushels of cats, and then it must be borne in mind that Rockford has an catmeal mill that, annually converts into catmeal over 100,000 bushels of cats.

St. Paul, Minn., April 19.—The snow disappeared from the fields in the south part of Minnesota eight to ten days ago, having gone from the northern fields several days previous. Wheat the northern fields several days previous. Wheat seeding generally began a week ago Monday. This week it is being pushed, with the ground for the last two days in fine condition. There is less prowing to do this spring than usual. Small grains will mostly be on fall plowing.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.
WINOMA, Minn., April 19.—Westher warm and nice. Seeding is well under way is the eastern part of Winona County, and the farmers are sowing in Wabsasha County. With favorable weather crops will be sown fully a week earlier than last year.

JANESVILLE. Wis., April 19.—The farmers in this vicinity, and in fact throughout Southern Wisconsin, have as yet sowed no grain, and many have done very little spring plewing. The ground is too wet as yet; but two or three bright days will place the ground in good condition.

Bacins, Wis., April 19.—The spring, as usual, a backward in this county. The frost, however, a well out of the ground, and farmers have is backward in this county. The frost, however, is well out of the ground, and farmers have commenced. With a fair share of good weather for the balance of the season our Grangers predict a teeming harvest. Your correspondent met our Board of Supervisors, which is composed largely of the leading farmers of the county, and they all speak flatteringly of the prospects.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.
Special Depatch to The Chicago Tribune.
Springfield, Ill., April 19.—Very little spring wheat is usually sown in this county, and the wheat is usually sown in this county, and the experience of last year was not encouraging for such a crop The present prospects are that the breadth of spring wheat sown this season will not be large. Fall wheat looks well, but the principal crop in Sangamon County is corn. The ground breaks well, and crop prospects are good, unless there should be too abundant rains in the next few weeks, as is threatened.

OSHKOSH, WIS.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

OSHKOSH, Wis., April 19.—The spring is backward and cold. The farmers sowed very little wheat to-day and yesterday, but a warm rain is needed before the ground is in condition for coving. Should we get pleasant weather and sowing. Should we get pleasant weather and mild temperature for three days an immense breadth of wheat would be sown. The farmers have almost despaired of good weather, so cold and raw has it been.

MACON COUNTY, ILL.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

DECATUR, Ill., April 19.—By careful inquiry, I find but vary little spring wheat sown this year in Macon County. There has been too much rain to admit of sowing. The winter wheat looks well, but the acreage is small.

SILVER.

The Assistant Treasurer at this point is 'not yet ready to redeem fractional currency with effiver, but expects soon to be able to do so. The banks are receiving orders from their country bustomers for silver. One bank yesterday got orders for $15,000 of eliver change, another for $0,000, and so on. The indications are that there will be an active demand for the new currency. Persons who protent fractional currency for redempiles will have to reimburse the Treasury the express charges god to transport the silver from the mint to poorer classes all over the country. The negroes of the southern Smiles are without doubt likely to absorb a very large amount of it. Specie has great attractions for those people. increasing activity is imparting increased firmness to the market. Sutter was in fitt levit and shipping demand, and was selling at about previous figures, though the market has an undertone of weakness. Cheese remains quiet and nominally uncnanged. There was a fair demand for fish at steady prices. Dried fruits were quoted active and strong, the general tendency of prices being upward. In the bagging, leather, coat, wood, spaint, oil, and tobacco markets no important changes were developed.

Lumber was in moderate demand and easy. The offerings at the docks were small, and there was little inquiry for cargoes. Drugs and chemicals were in fair offerings at the docks were small, and there was little inquiry for cargoes. Drugs and chemicals were in fair request and steady. Wool was dull and weak. Holders are anxious to close out before the advent of the new clip, hence the weakness. Broom-corn was steady under a moderate inquiry from manufacturers. Seeds were firm, being in fair request and scarte, especially the better class of samples. The best grades of timothy hay were stronger, otherwise there was no change in values, and the demand was only fair. Foreign green fruits were firmer.

The duties collected as the Custom-House yesterlay amounted tags, 329, 20. No direct importations of foreign goods were received.

PROVISIONS.

HOG PRODUCTS—Were more active, and weak, sallers being both numerons and anxious. The receipts of hogs were rather large, and prices were a shade easter, while Liverpool was again lower on lard. The chief cause of weakness seemed, however, to be the persistent smallness of the shipping demand for several days past, which led some operators to conclude that consumers would not take hold at present prices, and that former quotations could not, therefore, be sustained. Our shipments of lard recently have not much exceeded the receipts.

Mass Fons.—Was relatively quiet, though more active than on Monday, and was about 17%c per brillower, the offerings being considerably in excess of the

At least three times as many eattle were on sale as there was any legitimate demand for, scarcely more than a third of the offerings finding buyers. That being the case, holders made no effort to regain the ground lest at the beginning of the week, being only too glad of an opportunity to realize at the reduced prices. At the East as well as here there is an over-supply, and prices are at a point which leaves a margin altogether too insignificant to influence an active shipping movement; and that there was anything reaembling activity yesterday was due to an anticipated favorable reaction in the markets below rather than to any profits "in sight." Individual purchases were light, unusually so,—but there was a numerous attendance of buyers, and in the aggregate some 5,000 eatile changed hands. The range of prices was $2.50\cite{6}.50, with the bulk of the transfers at $3.00\cite{6}.35 for tutchers' stuf, at $3.50\cite{4}.00 for stockers and feeders, and at $4.00\cite{4}.55 for fair to good, fat, smooth shipping steers. Bulls sold at $2.50\cite{6}.50, for principally at $2.00\cite{3}.50 for ordinary to good grades. There was some demand for springers at $2.00\cite{6}.00 per head. The market closed weak, with the yards full of unoid cattle.

Yesterday morning the parties appeared in a lengthy argument was had. Affidavits had been Grover elaimed that this mortgage was made without notice to him, and greatly endangered his interest. He also stated that Lamphere made shother mortgage on the same property to a party in Michigan also without his notice.

The defendants' counsel asked for more time,

Judge Williams, however, intimated very strongly his opinion of the case. He said that the defendants should either resures Mr. Grover to his former position as shown by the terms of the contract between him and Cole, or a Receiver would be appointed immediately. The papers showed that there had been a violation of the order of the Court, in which force had been used. The Court had, in issuing the injunction, only given effect to the coparthership articles between Cole and Grover, and that injunction had been grossly violated. Such practice had been common lately in the county, and if Lanphers and Rigdon repeated their acts they would be employed for a long period in some other place than a theatre. and the rule to show cause for conte Mesers. Ricaby and Tuley, after some consultion, then announced that they would agree to the appointment of a Receiver, and Capt. W. P. Later in the afternoon Capt. Gray signified his intention to accept, and he will give a bond this morning.

Attest: Herman C. Biggs, Stated Clerk. RUPHERFORD PARK, N. J., Jan. 31, 1876.

To the Stated Clerk of the Presbytery of Peoria—Bkw. AND DEAR BROTHER: The Presbytery of Jersey City has this day dissolved the Rev. J. S. Giendenning to join your Presbytery. As this brother has been very prominently before the public for the last eighteen months, the brethren of this Presbytery deam it just that you should be made acquainted with the reasons for this publicity. He was arraigned at his own request before the Presbytery in October, 1874, on a charge containing several counts, one of which was unministerial and unchristian conduct. Of this he was Judged guitty, and, as a penalty was censured by the Presbytery, and his pastoral relation was declared dissolved. From the latter part of this sentence he appetied to the Synod. His church sise complained to the same body that the pastoral relation had been dissolved without consulting it. The Synod did not meet until October, 1875. In the meantime, while this appeal and complaint were pending, he resumed-the pastoral duties of his former charge without consulting the Presbytery. At the meeting of the Synod the complaint of the church was presented, namely that the Presbytery had surpassed its powers in its action. This was the subject of both documents, but the Synod sustained the Presbytery. It is not our desire whatseer to leasen the astesm with which this brother may be received among you, nor to interfere in any way with his work that this brief recital of facta is made, but only that you may know from an authentic source the true history of his case. By order of the Presbytery, Attest:

His injuries are not considered serious. The steamer Cricket, lying at Hannibal, went to the Clinton's assistance and took off the frightened passengers.

The Clinton was loaded at Hannibal, and expected to proceed to St. Louis last night. The Clinton is one of the best boats, and is commanded by Capt. W. The Haunibal bridge is considered the most dangerous of all on the river for steamboats. The current there is always bad, and is particularly ugly at high water. The Bev. J. Edward called up the testimonials of the Rev. J. S. Glendenning and moved their consideration. The letters given above were called for and read. He admired candor and frankness. Never before had an application for a man in difficulty come before this Presbytery. But these difficulties were duly examined by the Jersey City Presbytery, and his case completed and ended. This description was at his own request, which gives it atrength, for he is conscious of innocence. He does not come here as a fugitive from justice, but as any other man comes, with clean papers. Shall we receive him? The Presbytery of Jersey City has recommended him, and he comes in a frank, manly way, asking to be received among us. Many have been appealed to and committed themselves. This is the reason why he speaks. But he contended that he came with clean papers, and should be received.

Mr. McAyaina, af Peoris, asked if the letter. Foint, and all the different at that point turned out en masse to try to repair the break, which is reported 100 yards wide, and the water running through with fearful force at last accounts, and overflowing plantations at Moon Lake, and will find its outlet through the Coldwater and Tallahatchie Rivers. QUINCY, Ill., April 19.—The damage occasioned by the flood in this city has thus far been inconseveral places, and manufacturing establish-ments in the southern part of the city are put to much inconvenience. Trains on nearly all the much inconvenience. Trains on nearly all the roads leading into Quincy are now running reg-ularly. There is but little news from the Say leves. All effort to stop the bresks, which are gradually widening, are given up, and the bot-toms are filling up with water. At Alexandria fully two-thirds of the town is flooded. Many families have been compelled to leave their homes, as the water in many cases has resched nearly to the windows in the second story. Mr. McAvaina, of Peoria, asked if the lette of Mr. Gieudenning was in proper form.

Dr. Edwards replied there was no form on the book. There could be no obligation to the wording of the letter, for he was commended to

The Rev. M. Cornelison was adverse to his reception. He thought Brother Gleodenning had a tremendous cross to bear, and he did not see why he had to bear it; but he could bear it the best in Jersey City, and that was the place for him to bear it, rather than to employ him here to the distraction of any church. A Prosbytery and Synod there said it was not wise for him to have a church there. It would be unwise for us to receive him. We should not receive him, but so dispose of the case as not to add any additional harm to the brother.

Mr. McClay believed in his innocence. The Presbytery was composed of men, and they had prejudices, and when this case came up such was the state of the public mind that public clamor had to be beard. He censured the Jersey Presbytery for the mild way it had disposed of the case. The worst had been said. The towns had been flooded with papers, and the Chicago papers had done their utmost against Mr. Gleudenning. But, believing him innocent, he believed he ought to be admitted, and no harm would come to the cases of Christ not to breat the popular storm, and let him go on with his work, as he has endeared himself already to the Church where he is.

Dr. Edwards here took the floor, and at some length radjewed the scandad. The decision of the Presbyfery of Jersey City, the time when it occurred, and the influences that were in operation at the time were spoken of. He was satisfied that this Presbytery could stand it if Brother C. could; that the accompanying paper did not vitiate the legal force of the letter of dismissation at the time were spoken of. Notwithstanding, there are many persons who do not seem to have heard anything about it, or understand the importance of abolishing this useless machinery of "wheels within a wheel," and the heavy expense to taxpayers attending the same. We hope no good citizen will neglect to sign the petition.

COLORADO EXCURSIONIETS.

Within a few months the Pueblo & Arkaness Valley Railway has been completed. It is an extension of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Road, and opens up an immense and fertile territory, and makes Pueblo the railway centre of Colorado. In celebration of the completion of the road an excursion was planned, and the excursionists arrived at the Grand Pacific yesterday. The party was composed of M. D. Thatcher, Esq., of the First National Bank of Pueblo; James Rice, Esq., ex-Mayor of Pueblo, and his wife; O. H. Baxter, Esq., and wife, and James N. Carille, Esq. Messers. Thatcher, Rica, Baxter, and Carillo are Directors in the new road. The invited guests were the Hon. H. C. Thatcher, the Hon. Wilbur F. Stone, wife, and child; Gen. Keyes Danforth, and wife; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stanton, Mr. J. M. Stevenson, editor Pueblo Chieflam; S. C. Gallup, Esq., Miss Luna Jordan, Miss Frankie Sadler, and Miss Daley Burdick.

The party left Pueblo Saturday, arriving in St. Louis Monday morning. The day was spent in visiting the attractions of that burg—or rather in looking for some attractions therein. An invitation was then extended by the Chicago & Alton Road to visit Chicago, and the parry will remain here until Phursday.

The excursionists are enthusiastic in their description of the new road and its advantages. The beauty of the country through which it runs and the evenness of the climate have won for it the sobriquet of the "banans line." It opens up a direct line between Chicago, St. Louis, and the San Juan country, now looming into glittering fame through recently-discovered silver-mines. Chicago has spent a large amount of money on, and is peculiarly interested in, the new venture, and "now that the country is opened, a vast amount of machinery is being opened, a vast amount of machinery is being manufactured here. Pueblo has already felt the effect, and now bids fair to rival Denver in

DOM PEDRO.

THE EMPEROR MAKES A PLYING VISIT.

Along the line of the Baltimore & Ohio Boad it was thoroughly understood that the Emperorwas coming. People were up betimes, and the little stations were well crowded an hour before the train was due. The orange of severy town. the train was due. The orator of every town put on his clean shirt and cleared his throat.
Who could tell but what the Emperor might Who could tell but what the Emperor might step out upon the platform to stretch the Imperial legs? What more natural than that the welkin should ring with a burst of eloquent welcome? May be curiosity entered largely into the reasons, for early-rising Potentates are scarce. The natural King, with his fist full of ballots and his name registered in four different wards, sinks into utter insignificance leading to the product of the product m four different wards, sinks into utter insignin-cance beside the man elected by birth to the highest office in the nation. So when a live Em-peror, full of health and bloom, albeit never heard of before and not altogether perfect in the tocal lingo, flashes across the country, it is not unbecoming, perhaps, that he should be stared out of countenance and cheered at till he is deaf.

out of countenance and cheered at till he is deaf.

SOUTH CHICAGO

Is comfortably and airsiv aftuated in the middle of a vast prairie. Of late, Divine Providence has seen fit to half submerge it in water. South Chicago being on the line of the Baltimore & Ohio Road, the trains stop there, and the Company have exceted a station. A little south of the station is a sharp curve, and, when trains come around that curve rapidly, it is not impossible for them to jump the track and run into the station. To the end that the station shall not prove an insuperable obstacle to the train, it is laid out on a diminutive plan, something after the style of a dry-goods box set up on one end. It is like the Southerner whose coat was so big he couldn't pay the tailor, 6 feet one way and 3 feet the other. But the station was forgotten yesterday morning, as the solid men of the town massed themselves in front of it. These had been nothing said to indicate that the Emperor would not stay over in South Chicago for a week. He must be received, and the solid men were there.

The train was due at 7.22 but it was after 8.30 week. He must be received, and the solid mea-were there.

The train was due at 7:22, but it was after 8:30 as it dashed around the curve. A TRIBUNE re-porter mounted the back plasform of the "Me-iropolitan" as the train drew up. The door of the car was unlocked, and the reporter stepped in. He was welcomed by Dr. Honning, Secre-lary to the Emperor. His Majesty occupied a seat in the middle of the eastern side of the car, and was riding backwards. The reporter raised his hat, and the Emperor bowed gravely.

"That is the Emperor," said the reporter to the Doctor.

HIS HAJESTY
ted up and smiled pleasantly. He seemed to the fice. To him it was a stupendous joke, changing of his spots and throwing off royto become as one of the hard. Forty mil-had been elected.

As the train pushed on toward the city, there were knots and groups at every way station. Handkerchiefs and hats were waved, and choers went up. Dom Pedro eyed the demonstrations gravely, but with evident pleasure.

At Twenty-Second street, three carriages were waiting. The party debarked quietly, under the guidance of Mr. George M. Pullman, and in a moment they were out of sight of the crowd which had assembled. At Madison street the depot was thronged. As The Triburs reporter stepped off the car, a hearty cheer went up. Such the effect of contact with Royalty.

The larder was refreshed, and a large quantity of ice taken on. Then the car was pulled up to the Wells Street Depot, At 10-30 the Imperial party drove up, and the Emperor, followed at a respectful distance by his suite, entered his car and took a seat where he could see the crowd. A thousand or two people had assembled to see him, and probably not a quarter of them recognized the man in the white hat as the Emperor of Brazil. The train moved off slowly, and a parting cheer evoked a polite bow from Dom Pedro, and a cloud of dust arose where a minute before an Emperor had been visible.

Plead guilty.

Xesterday it was expected that several of the parties who have been indicted recently would come into court and plead to their indictments.

Owing to the fact that Judge Blodgett had an engagement elsewhere in the afternoon, the forengagement elsewhere in the alternoon, and a malify was postponed until this morning.

The Grand Jury, who were recalled Monday from their respective rural retreats, came together vesterday morning and held a sort of a session at which nothing was attempted in the session artificiation.

EMMONS-LANCASTER.

The wedding of Miss Georgiana Lancaster and Dr. Frank Emmons last evening was an event of special interest to a large portion of the social world. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Rezin Lancaster, a well-known capitalist, residing at No. 596 Michigan avenue, where the ceremony took place. The attendance was limited to the intimate friends. It was half-past 5 o'clock in the afternoon when the bridal party descended into the pariet, where the Rev. Ar-

SPORTING.

BASE BALL.

The White Stockings will open the season in Chicago by games this and Saturday afternoon with a picked nine of as great strength as can be nade up. Inasmuch as these games will be the first opportunities to see the nine for 1876 together and in play, a large attendance will undoubtedly be present. The nine leaves for Louisville Monday next, and will play in the latter city Tuesday and Thursday.

An early engagement of McBride and Malone by the Athletic Club is extremely probable,—in fact is confidently expected in Philadelphia. Bridgeport, Conn., has a Mayflower B. B. C. Yes, and if those good old Puritan fathers who ame over in the Mayflower could know the wickedness their descendants have come to, they would turn over in their graves. Mayflower Base-Ball Club is a mild form of blasphemy. The Cincinuati Commercial of April 9 says that the Star Club, of Covington, never lost a game with a Kentucky club until the exhibition contest with the Ludiowa, which Blong gave to the Ludiows by throwing it, for which he was expelled. Blong went to join McGeary in the St. Lonis nine.

Al Reach has resigned the position of Manager of the Athletic Club, of Philadelphia, and Al Wright has been elected in his stead. At a meeting of the Athletica, held in the early part of last week, the question as to whether a series of games should be arranged with the Philadelphias came up and created a storny discussion. It was decided, however, to not participate in any game with that club.

The Boston Advertiser, one of the fairest papers in the East, and as well posted as any on ball matters, has the following paragraph in connection with its report of the Boston Club's: first match of the season :

first match of the season:

Though by no means an experimental nine, there is yet a great deal of uncertainty about it. Borden is not spaiding, and yet he is a fine pitcher, with good judgment, nerve, and endurance. As a bataman he is above the average, and he is a first-elase base-runner; on this point he is superior to Spaiding. Nor is Mo-Ginley equal to White, but he has intelligence, quickness, and a good physique, and there is certainly nothing to prevent his taking a high rank. In batting and running he has always stood well. Murnan is thoroughly at home at first base, and he is very lively in that position. There is no need to add more than a word, and that about Whitney and Parks. The former is new to the professional ground, but his amateur record is fine. Parks is a good fielder, and, besides, has had considerable experience as a change pitcher. The whole nine is certainly one from which to hope for much, and, whatever their record may be next full, in cannot be other than an honorable one.

Anecdote of Maj. Andre. A friend in Monticello, Jones County, Iowa, contributes the following: "This being Centennial year. I thought to contribute to the Drawer a little incident of the 'lang syne' of New York, intended for a joke, though a very tragic one. Just above the terminus of Twen ty-eighth street, forty years ago, was Kipp's ty-eighth street, forty years ago, was Kipp's Point, on the East River, in the rear of which ran Cornwallis' trenches, in which, as a boy, I fished many a year. Fronting this creek stood the old stone Kipp mansion, possibly built by Jacobus Kipp, of Irving's 'Knickerbocker.' On the gable end of this bouse was a face carved in stone, and underneath it the iron figures, 1679. When the British held New York, Maj. Audre was a frequent visitor to this Kipp mansion, and on very intimate and friendly terms with the family, especially with a young lady, Miss Polly Kipp. When about to leave for West Point, he called to bid good-by, and, on parting with Polly, shock hands, exclaiming, 'Come, now, Polly, we are old friends; kiss me good-by.' She, in a half-joking way, repulsed him, exclaiming, 'Oh, you be hanged!' and he left. In 1837 one of the sons of the Kipp family (about 26 years old) told me that he had this story from his aunt Polly's own lips, and that she was deeply saddened when, on hearing of Andre's fate shortly afterward, she recalled her words spoken in just, 'Oh, you be hanged!'"
